Library Association

EDITORS: Gail Anderson / Linda Flavin

Remarks from the Chair...

As I write this, the annual Southern Chapter/Medical Library Association meeting has just finished up. While the Georgia Health Sciences Library Association has no formal ties with Southern Chapter or with the Medical Library Association, for that matter, many GHSLA members are Southern Chapter members and attended the meeting in Johnson City, Tennessee. A past officer of GHSLA, Linda Garr Markwell, served as chair of the Southern Chapter for this past year and was succeeded by another GHSLA member, Martha Watkins. The next Southern Chapter meeting will be in Atlanta in November 1990, so a lot of Atlanta GHSLA members are very involved planning for that meeting, which will be hosted by Emory Health Sciences Library (Carol Burns) and the Atlanta Health Science Libraries Consortium (Rosalind Lett). GHSLA members are active on several committees, presented several papers, and edit and publish the newsletter, Southern Expressions (Lyn Dennison with Camilla Reid). There was a lot of interest expressed in the Interlibrary Loan Workshops that GHSLA's Resource Sharing and Consortia Committees sponsored around the state.

All in all, Georgia Health Sciences Library people came away from the meeting looking very good—which shouldn't come as a surprise to anyone!

From the Editors

With one more issue of the GHSLA UPDATE, Linda and I will end our terms as editors. This issue is the first in the last two years without contributions from GHSLA member and past chair, Suzaan Wright, who has moved to Washington State. It's clear that the smaller size of this issue is in part due to lack of contributions from Suzaan. So a belated thanks to Suzaan for her past efforts! (She is still a member and will receive this issue).

There have been very "soft" deadlines for the Spring/Summer and Fall issues of the newsletter; however, the Winter issue—before the annual meeting—must be published well in advance of the meeting. We are sending out reminders of the next deadline to all GHSLA members. We need news of committees, consortia, people, and places. Of course, we welcome articles and library profiles. Publishing in newsletters is awarded credit by the Academy of Health Information Professionals—the more you do, the more credit you get.
Gail and Linda

The next deadline is JANUARY 29, 1990.
The Greenblatt Library's FAX number is (404)721-6006.

Miriam Libbey to Be Honored Posthumously

The Atlanta Health Sciences Libraries Consortium in cooperation with the Georgia Health Sciences Library Association is compiling a collection of essays in memory of Mrs. Miriam Libbey, former Director of the A.W. Calhoun Medical Library at Emory University. (The technical term for such a work is "festschrift.") The topic will be medical information and technology from the perspective of libraries, medical practitioners, and medical educators. While such a work is normally presented to a living individual upon their retirement, the untimely illness and death of Mrs. Libbey rendered this impossible. The coincidental 15th Anniversary of the consortium and the 40th Anniversary of the Southern Chapter of the Medical Library Association seemed like an ideal time to produce the festschrift since she was a key member of both organizations and GHSLA, as well.

Any former colleagues or students of Mrs. Libbey who would like to contribute to the project are urged to contact Steve Koplan at the Georgia Mental Health Institute, 1256 Briarcliff Road., N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30306. The phone number is (404) 894-5663. Steve Koplan

Medical College of Georgia Test Site

The Robert B. Greenblatt, M.D. Library, Medical College of Georgia, was used as the test site for a peer review system of measuring libraries devised by the Consortia of Southern Biomedical Libraries (CONBLS). Dates of the site visit were September 11-13th. The peer review team was headed by Henry J. Lemkau, Jr, Director of Libraries, University of Miami Calder Library. The other members of the team were Virginia Algermissen, Director of Libraries, University of Alabama Birmingham and Nancy McKeehan, Assistant Librarian for Systems, Medical University of South Carolina. The team's first draft was written in during the month of October and a discussion of the process was held at the CONBLS meeting during the SC/MLA meeting in late October in Johnson City, Tennessee. *Thomas G. ## Grateful Med® Now Available for Macintosh

The National Library of Medicine's Grateful Med® software is now available for use on any of the Apple family of Macintosh personal computers. Grateful Med® was introduced in 1986 for IBM-compatible PC's as a way for individual health professionals to have immediate, easy, and economical access to MEDLINE® and other NLM databases.

More than 11 million records are online for searching: references and abstracts to medical journal articles; catalog data on books, monographs, and audiovisual materials used in the health sciences; specialized information about drugs, chemicals hazardous waste materials, data on toxic releases into the environment; and databases with information about cancer and AIDS.

Grateful Med® allows health professionals and others to have direct access to this information from personal computers. The system is menu-driven and completely automates the chores of making telephone connection to the NLM computer in Bethesda, logging on the system, entering the search terms, and downloading retrieved records to the user's microcomputer. The average cost of a search via Grateful Med® is about $3.00.

Grateful Med® software is available from the National Technical Information Service, 5285 Port Royal Road, Springfield, VA 22161. Cost: $29.95 plus $3.00 handling. Order number: PB89-196083/GBB (Mac); PB86-158482/GBB (IBM). Requirements for Mac: 512 Kb, one floppy disk, Hayes-compatible modem. Annual updates are issued at no charge.

USBE Dead

The Board of Directors of the Universal Serials and Book Exchange, commonly known as USBE, announced that as of September 12, 1989, a petition of bankruptcy was filed in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Columbia for USBE Inc.

Originally located in the Library of Congress, USBE began as a post-war program to rebuild war-torn libraries overseas with donations from U.S. libraries of serials and books. From this concept of libraries-helping-libraries, USBE emerged as a network dedicated to the redistribution of periodicals, books, and other scholarly materials. In this capacity, it provided a unique, low-cost service to the library community for over 40 years.

Libraries in the southeast used USBE to obtain replacements for journal issues never received, lost, or stolen. Libraries were able to obtain these replacements for as low as $4.00, where a commercial backfile dealer or the original publisher would charge $25.00 or more for the same item.

USBE attributes their declining revenues to several changing patterns in the library world—the success of resource-sharing via union lists and interlibrary loan arrangements, the advent of electronic information, and library budget pressures. Whatever the reason, the impact will be that replacement items formerly obtained from USBE will undoubtedly cost more.

Current Contents™ is Online at the Medical College of Georgia

The Medical College of Georgia's Library Information System, MERLIN, has added ALERTS@/Current Contents™ to the Online Catalog (library holdings) and miniMEDLINE™ (clinically-oriented citations with abstracts from 300 core biomedical journals). ALERTS@/Currents Contents™ provides recent citations from 4500 scientific journals for approximately fifteen weeks. Searching protocols allow users to identify Greenblatt Library-owned journal titles, run weekly updates, browse "issues" of Current Contents™, and weed out foreign-language articles.

The scope of the online coverage is: life sciences, clinical medicine, social & behavioral sciences, plus physical, chemical & earth sciences, and agriculture, biology, and environmental sciences.

This database fills in the indexing lag in miniMEDLINE™, MEDLINE, and Index Medicus. It also fills the need of basic researchers at the Medical College of Georgia for more research-oriented biomedical material—something which has been one of the few drawbacks of miniMEDLINE™.

"Until 1970 [the New York Public Library] was open every day of the year from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m."

Send Your Suggestions...

The limit has been lifted on the number of Pre-explosions for the 1991 system. Pre-explosions (PX) are selected MeSH Headings (MH) that have already been EXPLODED to hasten retrieval of large numbers of citations. Suggestions for new Pre-explosions are being taken now for 1991. Please remember that a Pre-explosion is based on the MeSH Tree Structure; all terms must have the same root number in order to be part of a Pre-explosion. Terms which are logically related but do not share a common MeSH root number cannot be exploded or pre-exploded.

GHSLA COMMITTEE REPORTS

Consortia Committee Report

Members of the GHSLA Consortia Committee for 1989-90 are Mary Fielder, Rosalind Lett, Claudia LeSueur, Brenda Sorrow, Susan Seay, Camilla Reid, and Martha Watkins, chair.

The decision has been made not to produce another elaborate consortia directory for 1990, but rather to issue an additions/corrections sheet at the 1990 annual meeting.

The interlibrary loan workshops were jointly sponsored by the Consortia and Resource Sharing Committees. Because of the positive responses at these workshops, there is additional interest in joining consortia as a means of resource sharing. Because of the sponsorship of three of the workshops, the consortia are given extra opportunities to recruit new members.

Susan Seay is tentatively planning an organizational meeting for a north Georgia group in January. Please alert her to anyone you think might be interested in a consortium in that area.

Finally, the GHSLA Consortia Committee will sponsor a sharing session at the 1990 annual meeting, entitled "Sustaining Partnerships." Facilitated group sessions will be available to discuss uses and abuses of reciprocal borrowing, effective program ideas and developing/enforcing membership requirements. Details will follow in the meeting announcement.

Martha Watkins

Program Committee Report

Recently, several members of the GHSLA Executive Committee had a chance to meet with representatives of the Tennessee Health Sciences Library Association (TheSLA) to do some planning for our 1990 joint meeting. The Tennessee folks are doing 99% of the planning and the work—their chair-elect and program chair, Lynne Yeomans, has things well in hand, and I think we can look forward to an interesting meeting. Preliminary plans are for the meeting to be held in Chattanooga on March 22-24, 1990 with the hotel and meeting site, the Chattanooga Choo Choo. One continuing education course on online searching will be offered. We hope to keep meeting costs low again, to get a large turnout. Watch for registration packets with more information sometime after the first of the year.

Jett McCann

Nominating Committee Report

The GHSLA Nominating Committee was formed by Jett McCann and consisted of Donna Flake (Chair), Marilyn Barry, Ken Robichaux, and Kim McInnis. The committee has reported the following slate of officers, for consideration at the meeting in March 1990:

Chair-Elect: Alice DeVierno, Piedmont Hospital, Atlanta
Secretary: Mamie Bell, Henrietta Egleston Hospital for Children, Atlanta

Treasurer: Nancy Van Der Water, Mercer University School of Medicine, Macon

Editor: Sandra Franklin, Emory University, Atlanta

CONSORTIA REPORTS

Health Science Libraries of Central Georgia Consortium

July 1989 Meeting

The Health Science Libraries of Central Georgia Consortium met at the Houston Medical Center Library in Warner Robins on July 20, 1989. There were 21 present with 15 member libraries represented and 2 guests from the Medical College of Georgia Greenblatt Library.

Chairperson Jocelyn Rankin from the Mercer School of Medicine Library announced membership changes due to the new two-level membership plan. Two libraries have resigned and two libraries have chosen to become associate members by paying an annual fee and limiting their free interlibrary loans. Fifteen libraries will continue with active participation in the consortium and full membership privileges.

An interconsortia interlibrary loan agreement has been signed with the Atlanta Health Science Libraries and a current list of AHSLC members and their addresses was given out.

The members agreed to sponsor a GHSLA workshop "Local Networking through Interlibrary Loan" for the program at the November HSLCGC meeting. They also decided to prepare an annotated Brandon-Hill list that will show which libraries in the consortium have these books.

The HSLCGC constitution and by-laws had been reworded to reflect the two levels of membership and these changes were approved. A draft for a consortium brochure was presented to the group and a logo is now being prepared and will be included on this brochure. Betty Clements from Hughston Sports Medical Center Library gave an interesting slide presentation on her recent tour of medical libraries in the Peoples' Republic of China. She and about 30 other medical librarians were invited by the Chinese Medical Association to visit several libraries in eastern China and to talk with their librarians.

November 1989 Meeting

The Health Science Libraries of Central Georgia sponsored the GHSLA workshop "Making New Connections: Local Networking through Interlibrary Loan" for their regular consortium meeting on November 16 at Mercer University School of Medicine. Twenty-one HSLCGC members from 14 libraries attended the workshop with about 10 other participants.

At the consortium lunch and business meeting, chairperson Jocelyn Rankin, Mercer University School of Medicine, distributed copies of the new HSLCGC Union List of Serials which Mercer had prepared. The members agreed to offer this union list for sale to other libraries that may be interested. Also an annotated Brandon-Hill list to show textbook holdings of HSLCGC libraries was disseminated.

Officers for the new year were elected and will begin their terms at the February meeting. Brenda Sorrow, Houston Medical Center in Warner Robins, will serve as chairperson with Mary Jones, Georgia College in Milledgeville, as chair-elect and Linda Venuto, West Central Georgia Regional in Columbus, as secretary.

GHSLA MEMBERSHIP FORM 1990

The Georgia Health Sciences Library Association (GHSLA) was founded to promote the health sciences in Georgia through activity, communication, and interaction among those persons involved or interested in health sciences librarianship. Our membership includes librarians who work in hospitals, clinics, special libraries, medical, dental, allied health and nursing schools, as well as physicians and their associates. We share information through the publication of a newsletter, the GHSLA UPDATE, and at an annual meeting each spring. Our meetings include discussion of timely topics and continuing education courses to keep the membership abreast of changes in this field. Membership is available on either a personal basis ($5 per calendar year) or an institutional/business basis ($10 per calendar year).
