She also mentioned that an additional 24 hours was added to survey time (to survey newly acquired facilities).

Pat expects her visit in June, while Fay expects hers in August.

Linda shared some Health care sites with the group.

David’s library GSPP was no longer on Docline, and should be struck from the cell. There were still a few issues to be resolved concerning Galileo access. For example, the interested library had to have a library card, or have someone in the library with a personal card.

Mary Fran Prossman was interested in Ariel.

Rosalind suggested that we should investigate partnering with SLA if we want to do anything with PR. The Public Broadcasting event in March, and the Dream Jamboree in April are two events that could have benefited from such a partner relationship.

Paula noted that Fay Evatt was unable to attend and would bring an updated membership list to the July meeting.

Information Technology

Susan Lee, of Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, Egleston gave an excellent presentation defining the goals and responsibilities of the information technology committee. She handed out a detailed committee membership list along with the written goals. This was followed by two surveys for the AHSLA membership to complete. New Business

- Brenda announced that the Cadence Group has approached us. This is an information retrieval company that furnishes articles to people as well as furnishing staffing to libraries. Call to Order

The meeting was called to order by Brenda Curry-Wimberly at 12:35 p.m. The meeting was held at Georgia School of Professional Psychology. Fifteen members were present.

Minutes/Introductions

Mary Ann McGrath, Ph.D. welcomed everyone. The May minutes were approved as written.

Membership Committee

Paula Christian and Fay Evatt reported that consortium members were asked to purchase a children's book to be given to the library at Scottish Rite Children's Healthcare Hospital. The books will be have a sticker inside stating that they were given in memory of Fran Golding. A small reception will be given held at a later date at which time the books will be formally donated.

Fay announced that a party will be held for AHSLA members and one guest on Saturday, September 8th and will begin between 4 and 5 in the afternoon. The party will be at Fay's house and she will send out maps/directions. It will be a covered dish dinner.

Information Technology

Susan Lee distributed handouts of library automation websites, evidence based medicine and continuing education resources. Susan stated that she had submitted an outline of the paper for Southern Chapter's approval.

Education

Beth Poisson announced that the Education and Planning committee had met and planned several meeting topics for next year. Some of the meetings that we have to look forward to are:

- September 20, 2001 Toni Yancey speaking on PubMed enhancements
- November 15, 2001 Linda Stetson
- January 2002 Taking care of YOU so you can help others
- March 2002 Lynette Ralph, Online Nursing Resources

If you can provide a program or program idea for May 16, 2002; July 28, 2002; or September 19, 2002 please contact Beth. She will welcome your input.

New Business

Brenda asked for volunteers for the 2002 nominating committee according to consortium by-laws. Paula Christian, Fay Evatt and Marilyn Barry offered to serve on this committee.

We discussed group pricing for an OVID offer and decided to invite Dan Denault, the OVID sales representative to our September meeting so that we could ask him questions. Brenda asked that our members e-mail questions to her in advance and she will forward them to Dan for his preparations.

JCAHO - Ann Kramer of Promina Gwinnett said that JCAHO had just finished at her hospital and paid a planned visit to the library. They were very interested in her electronic resources.

Brenda announced that the farewell reception for Rosalind Lett was a great success. Roz plans to return to Atlanta to assist Jeanette Blalock with the September 20th meeting at Henry Medical Center.

Announcements were made that there are vacancies at several hospitals for work in the libraries. Some of these include...
Crawford Long, Emory, Promina Gwinnett, Life College and Morehouse School of Medicine.

Special thanks was given to David for hosting.

Adjournment

The meeting was adjourned at 1:10 p.m. The next meeting will be held on September 20th at Henry Medical Center.

ACP Journal Club
http://www.acponline.org/journals/acpjc/cmenu.htm?wnj
ACP Journal Club’s general purpose is to select published articles according to explicit criteria and abstract those studies and reviews that warrant immediate attention by physicians attempting to keep pace with important advances in the treatment, prevention, diagnosis, cause, prognosis, or economics of disorders managed by internists. These articles are summarized in "value-added" abstracts and commented on by clinical experts. ACP Journal Club is published bimonthly by the American College of Physicians-American Society of Internal Medicine.

Bandolier – Evidence Based Health Care
http://www.jr2.ox.ac.uk/bandolier/index.html
Bandolier is a print and Internet journal about health care and the use of evidence-based medicine techniques to provide advice about particular treatments or diseases for healthcare professionals and consumers. The content is 'tertiary' with distilled information from (secondary) reviews of (primary) trials.

Best Evidence
http://ebm.bmjournals.com/
The Best Evidence database consists of two journals ACP Journal Club, a publication of the American College of Physicians, and Evidence-Based Medicine, a joint publication with the British Medical Journal Group. The editors of Best Evidence screen the top clinical journals on a regular basis and identify studies that are both methodologically sound and clinically relevant. They write an enhanced abstract of the chosen articles and provide a commentary on the value of the article for clinical practice. Using this source, clinicians can quickly understand and apply to their practice important changes in medical knowledge, without having to read and synthesize for themselves thousands of journal articles.

Clinical Evidence
http://www.clinicalevidence.org
Clinical Evidence is a six monthly, updated compendium of evidence on the effects of common clinical interventions, published by the BMJ Publishing Group. It provides a concise account of the current state of knowledge, ignorance, and uncertainty about the prevention and treatment of a wide range of clinical conditions based on thorough searches of the literature. It summarizes the best available evidence, and where there is no good evidence, it says so.

Cochrane Library
http://www.updateusa.com/
Includes the Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews - Regularly updated reviews of the effects of health care; the Database of Abstracts of Reviews of Effectiveness - Critical assessments and structured abstracts of good systematic reviews published elsewhere; the Cochrane Controlled Trials Register - Bibliographic information on controlled trials; and other sources of information on the science of reviewing research and evidence-based health care.
Closing in on Content

By Jeff Barry

In some ways, the inevitable changes in the 2000 automation marketplace paralleled those in the past: mergers between automation vendors and acquisitions by larger conglomerates. However, in 2000, some vendors also responded to the demand for innovative solutions by introducing exciting new products in the areas of content delivery and personalization.

By far, the most discussed move of the year was the purchase of Endeavor by publishing giant Elsevier. However, perhaps the most surprising one was the acquisition of CARL by The Library Corporation (TLC).

As for sales of automated systems, the year started off slow for almost all vendors. Many institutions had spent their technology budgets on Y2K fixes and upgrades, so the 1999-2000 fiscal year left potential buyers with few funds for big new purchases at the beginning of the calendar year. (see tables 1, 3 & 4)

Mergers and alliances

The acquisition of Endeavor by a larger company didn't surprise most in the industry, nor did the entry of a content provider into the automation marketplace. However, that the purchaser was Elsevier Science raised several questions. It's no secret that many librarians, particularly ones in Endeavor's targeted academic market, retain suspicion of Elsevier due to the pricing of its scholarly journals. Whether fairly or not, Elsevier is often portrayed as the "wolf at the door" of academic library budgets. So, what impact will the Elsevier corporate presence have on Endeavor? What role will Elsevier play?

While current Endeavor management must remain for a specified time under the purchase agreement, some in the industry speculate that longtime staff may eventually leave Endeavor. At the same time, others quietly applaud the arrival of a financially strong content provider in the automation marketplace. Elsevier's deep pockets can finance the costly development and support of today's technologically complex library system. Already, the monetary infusion at Endeavor has doubled its development staff.

We can expect to see more content providers entering the systems arena. Automation vendors still being run by an aging founder might be prime targets for future acquisitions. For librarians, such consolidations may make sense because an increasing number of library services are being designed around the provision of electronic content. Collaborations among systems vendors and content providers, whether through mergers or alliances, will enable libraries to offer the necessary linkages between local collections and online materials.

Acquisitions and new faces
The acquisition of CARL Corp. by TLC in June caught more people by surprise. Though speculation had been mounting about the future of CARL, few realized that the partnership between CARL and TLC in Singapore during the late 1990s would bring the two companies together. Since the introduction of its Librarya ¢Solution product in 1997, TLC has tried to position itself as a company that could serve larger libraries. CARL's historic strength has been with very large library systems, particularly public library ones, so the merger is logical. By acquiring CARL, TLC has placed itself as the vendor of choice when current CARL customers seek to upgrade. A new face among automation vendors is Patrick C. Sommers, who took over as president of Sirsi in January. However, Sommers is not new to the information industry: he has been the president and CEO of Dialog Corp. and former president of Dun & Bradstreet Information Resources. Sommers will run the Sirsi operation, while founders Jim and Jacky Young will focus on the company's technological developments. In an era where automation executives often hop from one vendor to another, leaders from other segments of the information industry may bring new ideas and perspectives.

Revenues in 2000
Estimated library systems revenue for 2000 based on this survey are no more than $440 million—though that figure should be treated with caution, since this year's survey garnered fewer responses and included more estimates. The figure is below that of the three previous years, partly due to slow sales early in the year, too. Last year's survey included 26 vendors. This survey includes responses from 19 vendors, though revenues were also estimated for vendors not covered and those that did not specify revenue. Profiles below are based in part on company-supplied answers to survey questions.

Inadvertently, the survey was not sent to the following companies: CASPR, Geac, and Sanderson. The following companies were not able to complete the survey in time for the publication of this article: Fretwell-Downing, SIRS Mandarin, SydneyPLUS.

Of the 17 companies reporting revenue, Innovative Interfaces again had the largest revenue with $75 million. Another vendor, which requested that its identity not be disclosed, reported revenue in the range of $70-$80 million, as did another which reported revenue of $60 million. Another reported revenue in the $40-$45 million range. The remainder of the companies reported revenue under $30 million: one in the $25-$30 million range, one in the $20-$25 million range, one in the $15-$20 million range, three in the $10-$15 million range, five in the $5-$10 million range, and two in the $1-$2.5 million range.

Revenue breakdown

Revenue coming from the reselling of hardware averaged 7%, which continues the decline in this area. Software accounted for 48% of revenue, similar to last year's 47%. Of the 13 companies reporting revenue breakdown, software ranged from 16% to 85%. Maintenance and service fees averaged 29%, the same as last year. The actual percentage is likely higher, since at least one vendor in both years reported maintenance fees only from new sales. Ten of the 13 vendors providing this information reported that maintenance fees accounted for more than 20% of revenue in 2000. An average of 16% of vendor revenue came from "other" products and services--training, consulting, database conversion, library products not related to automation--and ranged from 5% to 42%.

(see chart)

New developments

Last year's automated systems marketplace article called for vendors to develop ways to integrate additional content, such as book reviews and personalization features, into OPAC searches. Sirsi, the first vendor to deliver on that challenge, introduced a new technological and business model for library automation with the release of iBistro. While iBistro is billed as an Internet access portal for library users, the distinguishing feature is its capacity to integrate related content into a unified display through simultaneous, broadcast searching. For example, searching the catalog displays not only holdings information but also-taken a cue from Amazon.com--reviews, tables of contents, synopses, and images of the book's cover jacket.

The technology behind iBistro represents a groundbreaking development in library automation. The additional content is maintained on centralized servers at Sirsi's site rather than on each individual library's server. User searches redirect to the Sirsi server for the enhanced content. The results are combined with the holdings information from the local catalog into a unified display.

These developments also represent a new revenue stream for the vendor, as libraries pay an annual subscription for access to the enhanced content. Sirsi has licensed the enhanced bibliographic data from Syndetic Solutions, plus book reviews from Library Journal, School Library Journal, and Publishers Weekly. Thus, each library is relieved from negotiating these arrangements and gains from economies of scale.

Not to be outdone by what may quickly be seen as a must-have feature, other vendors are implementing similar offerings. TLC has "YouSeeMore," which also offers book reviews from the above-mentioned three publications. Innovative is readying its Millennium Access Plus (MAP) solution, and epixtech is developing iLibrary as its personalized portal.

As the management of digital assets becomes a huge worldwide market, library automation firms are beginning to position themselves for a piece of this pie. BiblioMondo's CEO and President Todd Joron thinks that "libraries will become the world's digital points of presence" by providing a variety of online content. Standalone products like ExLibris's DigiTool and Endeavor's Encompass, distinct from the vendor's integrated systems, can help academic and special libraries record, maintain, and provide access to digital content of events, seminars, and presentations on campus. (see table 2)

OpenURL

A major development that affects library automation is the increasing support for OpenURL as a vendor-neutral standard for linking among online resources. In a series of articles published in D-Lib magazine (www.dlib.org) during 1999, Herbert Van de Sampel of the Central Library, University of Ghent, Belgium, outlined how he developed SFX as a mechanism for implementing such linkages. The OpenURL concept grew out of Van de Sampel's research. While his work received much attention from the technical community, it didn't get widespread notice until Ex Libris announced in February 2000 that it had acquired the sole rights from the University of Ghent to the SFX Reference Linking Software Solution.

Ex Libris now promotes SFX as a new server-based product that allows users to search a database and click on a resulting citation to search it automatically in other databases. Notably, use of the SFX software from Ex Libris is totally independent of any OPAC.
Indeed, Ex Libris aims to get the SFX server software into libraries not currently using the company's ALEPH system as a way to allow potential customers to become familiar with the company.

Ex Libris's backing of SFX quickly brought credibility to the OpenURL concept; now the National Information Standards Organization (NISO) is considering adopting it as a standard. Other vendors such as Endeavor are developing efforts based on OpenURL. Aspects of Innovative's Millennium
Access Plus product also are based on the use of OpenURLs.

The impact of e-books
This year's survey asked vendors about the impact of electronic books on libraries in the next five years. "Confusion!" was the response from Carol Knoblauch, product manager for Open Text, BASIS Division. She added, "There are so many legal, technical, and procedural issues to be resolved in the next few months/years that the most likely result will be more options than most libraries are prepared to consider."

Other respondents echoed near-future caution; however, most expressed optimism in the long run. Cindy Miller, director of product strategy for Endeavor, sees two elements as essential for the widespread adoption of ebooks in libraries: rights management solutions and cooperative development between system vendors and e-book suppliers. "For electronic books to flourish, integration of and access to e-items through the OPAC is essential," said Miller. Carl Grant, president of Ex Libris (USA), added that "libraries will need applications designed specifically to interconnect with other systems that serve as the distribution centers for e-books, and they must be able to enforce copyright and distribution control."

Oddly, despite statements of support for such systems, only Sagebrush, among vendors surveyed, has joined the Open E-Book Forum (www.openbook.org), a leading international organization attempting to establish common specifications for e-book systems.

According to several vendors in the school library market, the brightest future for e-books in the near-term is with textbooks. Sagebrush's Darrel VanderZee, VP of business development, states that "e-books will play a substantial role in schools and school libraries within five years. E-books offer several unique advantages, including full-text searching, integrated multimedia presentations, and the ability to highlight and make annotations.

Tom Schenck, president of Follett Software, also sees the initial impact of e-books in schools on the reference collection. He states that reference materials "will then be available online and may possibly be downloaded to an e-book reader." However, Schenck doesn't expect e-books to gain serious momentum for five to ten years.

Katherine Blauer, president of Gaylord Information Systems, suggests that digital audiobooks, MP3, and related formats may streamline services to the homebound, the blind, and the physically handicapped.

Toward the virtual library

Most responses noted that e-books are simply one component of the library's increasingly complex array of information resources. DRA CEO Michael Mellinger said, "We see e-books as part of a larger trend of virtualization in today's library.... Ultimately, the push of virtualization serves patron services by taking resource sharing to an entirely new level of immediacy."

Since special libraries have long pioneered in handling electronic resources, a perspective from Phil Green, president and CEO of Inmagic, which specializes in this market segment, might clarify the long-term context: "Within five years we believe that the majority of special library resources will be electronic/virtual.... Browser-based access to library materials is now a standard, and... the vast majority of library usage will be virtual (via a browser) rather than face-to-face.... In many ways these trends will move the corporate librarian into the role of the intranet content manager."

The librarian still must select, acquire, and organize quality information resources. The integration of e-books and other digital material into a library collection is being enabled by an emerging set of technologies. The tools that librarians use "to perform these tasks will need to be thoroughly transformed to work in a world of electronic materials and virtual library access," according to Green of Inmagic.

System vendors are attempting to fill this transformative role through their products. Today's systems are being designed to supply the distributed infrastructure for new synergies among libraries and content providers, resulting in expanded access to materials. Is the promise of client/server computing fulfilled? That depends upon how successfully librarians manage technology-enhanced services. The technologies are changing how librarians work, but they do not change the essence of library work.

Description of Course
This course is designed as an introduction for medical librarians to the practice of evidence-based medicine (EBM). In particular, what role the librarian can play in the practice of EBM will be covered.

The course is approved for 10 CEUs from the Medical Library Association and runs for 8 consecutive weeks. It will take a total of approximately 30 hours to complete the course, depending on previous knowledge of EBM and other factors.

The cost of the course is $200.

The format of the course is a combination of course material, independent readings, reviews and exercises. In addition, students are required to participate in discussions through the course listserv. A final assignment integrating all the concepts learned during the previous weeks is also required. (UNC SILS students are required to complete an additional final project.)

For more information about the course, go to the course website and "visit as a guest." To get on the mailing list for notification of the next course offering, contact Julia Kochi or Julie Garrison.

Course Objectives
After completion of this class, participants should be able to:

1. Identify and explain the concept, issues and process of EBM
2. Identify the parts of a well built clinical question
3. Identify and explain at least 3 basic criteria for judging the validity of studies on:
   - Diagnosis

4. Identify at least 3 roles that librarians can undertake in providing EBM training and support to health care professionals

5. Suggest at least 3 ways to incorporate EBM training and support into what the library is already doing

Course Outline

   - Class evaluation

Is distance education for me?

Questions to consider before starting:

- Do I have access to a working computer, modem, and the Internet?

Your connection to this class will be the Internet. You should have reliable

Evidence-Based Medicine for the Medical Librarian

Internet service on a computer that is conveniently accessible to you.

Will I be able to meet the minimum requirements of the class?

The requirements for a distance education class are no less than traditional classroom instruction. There will be assignments to complete and a requirement that students participate in class discussions via the listserv.

Am I self-motivated and self-disciplined?

While this course offers a suggested calendar for moving through the material, one of the great advantages of distance education is being able to be flexible and set your own schedule. The online course requires responsibility and commitment from the student to keep up with the class materials and complete the assignments within the overall time frame.

Am I willing to speak up when problems arise or I have questions?

Distance education eliminates the opportunity to observe body language and non-verbal communication. The instructors cannot tell if you are having problems with the course or the technology unless you tell them.

Can I communicate effectively through writing?

The vast majority of communication for this class will be through writing. You will have class assignments, a listserv and email for communication.

Am I willing to participate via the electronic discussion groups?

You will be working by yourself for a good deal of the course. It is important that you be willing and open to sharing your ideas, opinions and concerns with the rest of the students through the discussion groups.

Am I willing and able to commit 2 to 4 hours a week for this course?

Online courses are not easier than traditional classroom instruction. Often they require more time because of supporting reading materials and exercises.

06/08/2001
• Do I feel that high quality learning can take place without going to a traditional classroom?

Most of our learning experience has been in traditional classroom settings, with instructors and students who can provide interaction and instant feedback. While this course has many opportunities to interact with instructors and students, much of the time you will be working with the material on your own.

If most of your responses to these questions are YES, then distance education will work for you.

If you hesitated with many of the responses, then you should think about these issues and be sure that you understand them before signing up for this course.

Good Luck!

Education - Anne Kramer
- Today we will be sharing ideas to improve our medical libraries.

- The Technology committee members are Joedda Pessima, Vivian Chandler, and Elaine Harbin. They would welcome any other interested members.
- Lynette asked if the committee planned to have a poster session at the Southern MLA meeting in the fall. Susan indicated they had not thought about it - is it required of the Technology committee, or could another committee, like Education do something this year?
- Susan suggested if anyone had any work, or ideas to bring it to the table, and maybe a group could put together a poster session.
- Brenda suggested maybe a presentation on copyright?
- It was agreed copyright information would be very useful. Brenda made the suggestion that since there are so many different databases with different copyright rules, maybe different people or committees could be assigned particular databases to present updates on copyright at each of the meetings. Elaine suggested identifying core journals or databases to update and discuss.
• Paula recommended that members email Lynette their top 3 or 4 databases and then Lynette can ask people to report on them in future meetings.
• Brenda suggested contacting NLM or Doc line to see if they have a representative who could come to talk to us about copyright.

Membership - Brenda Curry-Wimberly

• If you need a copy of the list, email or call Brenda.
• The committee will look at and work on 2002 projects.
• Paula mentioned one of the original members of AHSCLC, Ann Martin, died last August. She was a medical librarian at St. Joe's, and has left them $24,000.

• The consortium received a letter from Children's Healthcare thanking us for the book donations in Fran Golding's memory.

Bylaws - No report

Paula sent flowers for Jeanette Blalock's funeral from the consortium. They cost $75, and if anyone would like to contribute, please give your donation to Paula.

New Business:
It was commented that the website has not been updated with any 2002 information. Lynette said she spoke with Carolyn Brown about it and Carolyn apologized and said she would work on it. Amy volunteered to help update the website, if Carolyn finds she does not have the time. Lynette will speak with Carolyn again.

• Beth mentioned she is leaving Moorehouse at the end of June due to downsizing, and to let her know of any available positions that come up.
• Paula asked if people are interested in another social gathering, like we had last year at Fay's house. We could do it late summer or fall; Fay Evatt has volunteered her house again, or we could all go out to dinner. Think about some other ideas to discuss at the next meeting.
• Susan wanted to know if anyone had downloaded the final version of QuickDoc? Elaine Harbin did, and has not had any problems with it.

Adjournment
Lynette adjourned the meeting at 1:20 p.m.

Anne is going to schedule Beth Westcott, from NLM, to come next year to give a class on PubMed, as there are changes coming down the pike. We would need a hosting facility that could accommodate the computer needs required for this class - possibly St. Joe's.

It was noted that GHSLA next year is March 12-15th in Savannah.

Old Business:
None.

New Business:
- Presently, we have no location for our September 19th meeting. Morehouse was originally scheduled, but due to staff changes, and a fire, they have no room available to accommodate us. JCAHO:
- Linda Venis announced that JCAHO will be visiting them for 6 weeks, starting October 1st.

Invocation & Joke of the Day
Paula gave both the invocation and joke of the day.

Minutes
The July 2002 minutes were passed out and read silently. The July 2002 minutes were moved to be adopted as written by Marilyn Barry; Tara Douglas-Williams seconded the motion.

Committee Reports
Membership - Paula Christian reported for Brenda Wimberly-Curry
- Paula reported on membership, as Brenda could not attend the meeting. Brenda's daughter will be having surgery next week. If you think of it, drop Brenda a card or a line to let her know we are thinking about her and her family at this time.
- Paula passed out copies of the updated membership list. There are still some changes needing to be added to it. Since Brenda has a lot on her plate right now, Amy volunteered to make the changes and pass out a new list once it is updated. She will contact Brenda for the file.
- Lynette has been contacted by the Cadence Group requesting membership in the consortium. According to the bylaws, it must be a majority vote to let an institution into the consortium. Discussion followed on whether Cadence meets our membership criteria, as they are a contracting company and not a specific library institution. It was decided that Cadence does not meet our criteria for a membership application, thus no vote was necessary. Lynette will let them know our decision.
- It was suggested that someone's legal department look at our bylaws to make sure they are clarified and airtight. Paula said her legal department could do it; Edie has a volunteer lawyer in her library who may also be willing to look at the bylaws. Lynette will contact Mary Larson (Bylaws committee chair) to put together an adhoc committee to go over the bylaws and come up with specific questions or concerns for the lawyers to look at in regards to our bylaws. Some other suggestions made about clarifying bylaws include: closed business meetings; no visitors allowed at all; include amendment for retired members/emeritus member who would have to be voted in.
- It was also mentioned that maybe we should have a password protected area of our website for members only. Carolyn Brown will look into this. Paula suggested contacting the GHSLA webmaster who did this for the GHSLA website.

Technology - Susan Lee
- Susan had a handout with some suggestions of topics to be discussed at future meetings. Please let her know what you are interested in at, and the committee can prepare something for a future meeting.
They have the statistics from the survey that was sent out, and will present them at their next presentation.

Education - Anne Kramer

- The November meeting will be a joint meeting with GAIN and hosted by Mercer. Anne has lined up Annalee Henneberry from the CDC to discuss some of the different CDC databases that are available.
- Beth Westcott from NLM will hopefully have an education program for us on a PubMed and Docline Update at the January 23, 2003 meeting. It will be here at St. Joe's, since they have a large computer-training classroom.

Old Business:

- Lauren is still waiting for Docline statistics from people. So far she has gotten only six replies. A copy of the form was passed out to everyone. If anyone has questions or problems with the form they can contact Lauren through email or phone.

- The next meeting on November 21 will be a joint meeting with GAIN at Mercer University, Atlanta campus. Since Mercer will not be able to provide the food, a vote was taken on whether to do a potluck or an individual monetary contribution to pay for food. It was decided that $10 per person would be sent to Lynette as soon as possible to cover the cost of the lunch. Checks can be made out to Mercer University. Pam will send the information to the GAIN people, and Lynette will send an email out as well in October.

New Business:

- Paula handed out a flyer with information about new books on Bioterrorism. She purchased copies and gave them to their ER, Infection control, Employee health, and Security departments. She also handed out copies of an article about the role of medical librarians in reducing medication errors.

- Lynette asked for volunteers for this year's nominating committee. Paula Christian, Anne Kramer, Marilyn Barry, Linda Venis, and Lynette Ralph volunteered to be on the committee.

- Linda Venis provided handouts on Freeshare. This is a cross-regional library group formed to reciprocate free interlibrary loans. Linda gave helpful hints on signing up, and the benefits of using it. Please feel free to contact Linda if you have questions as you get into using it.

JCAHO: No visits to report

Announcements

- Sandra asked that the consortium keep Emory in mind when we need to purchase ILL articles. Their journal budget has been cut, and they tried to keep journals that get a large number of ILL requests, so any support we can give them is greatly appreciated!

Who Are Your Health Care Administrators?
And how do their information needs differ from your other patrons?

Categories of Health Care Administrators

Example – DeKalb Medical Center
- President/Chief Executive Officer
- Senior Vice President/Chief Financial Officer
- Senior Vice President of Corporate Services
- Vice President of Finance/Corporate Compliance
- Chief Information Officer
- Vice President of Corporate/Community Services
- Vice President of Health Care Services/Chief Nursing Officer
- Vice President of Medical Affairs
- Vice President of Medical Director, Health Services

But remember, at any point virtually any professional employee could be practicing “health care administration”

Include Health Care Administration as Part of Your Library Professional Information Web page

Example of a Hospital Webpage

Treadwell Library, Massachusetts General Hospital Library
Healthcare Administration Links

Massachusetts Resources
- HealthCare.com
- Healthcare Administration
- Healthcare Administration Directory
- Healthcare Administration Resources
- Healthcare Administration Web sites

Other Resources
- Healthcare Administration Links
- Healthcare Administration Links
- Healthcare Administration Links
- Healthcare Administration Links
- Healthcare Administration Links
- Healthcare Administration Links
This Afternoon We Will be Beginning to Create Similar Pages

At the Conclusion of this Slide Presentation You Will Divide into Small Groups and Plan a Page that is Specific to One of Your Libraries

Now I am going to suggest a process for developing a “Search Strategy for Health Care Administrators” page, as opposed to a “List of Links” which you might want to adapt as part of your page.

A “search strategy” page versus a List of Links

U.S. Army-Baylor University Graduate Program in Health Care Administration Links of Interest

Search Strategy Page for the Health Administrator

Each of these steps would link to the relevant resources

Search Strategy

1. Start with a Search Engine - a general one and then a search engine
2. You may need to appear as your question at the point
3. From the top part of your question, then use the next likely engineering
4. For each the web page linking to a search specific site
5. If you can't find the needed part of the web page then a list of them
6. If you still have not found your answer though you may use one of the health resources - health science thinking groups, midwives, resources in health care administration

Steps 1 and 2

- Get In
- Get Out
- Go On with Your Life
- A Child's repeating pattern

Search Engines

- Medical Subject Headings (MeSH)
- Encyclopedia of Depths
- Millenium Encyclopedia

Links

Step 3
- Categorize the Question

What Questions are Your Administrators Asking?
Please write one question on a card right now.

We will then compare the questions against the categories that I am suggesting and see if we need to add additional categories.

Steps 4 and 5

For Each Category Choose
- Approximately three websites that would probably answer most questions that you receive
- Approximately four websites of links of pages that might lead to the answer

Selection Criteria - First Choice
Sources from the National Library of Medicine, Academic Institutions or Professional Associations

A Very Current and Exhaustive List for Selecting Materials

"... What are the best resources in health economics? The National Library of Medicine contracted with AcademyHealth to tackle this question and develop a report with a core list of materials (books, journals, websites and bibliographic databases) and a desired list of books and journals in the field of health economics. The lists are primarily geared to individuals who are new to the field or unfamiliar with the various resources on health economics and need to acquire and/or access publications, databases, and websites in the health economics domain...."

History of the Jimmy Carter Library

Shortly after taking office as President, Jimmy Carter indicated his interest in a Presidential Library to be built "someplace in Georgia." The National Archives was invited to establish an office in the Old Executive Building and to staff it with archivists who could advise the White House staff on the preservation and arrangement of materials prior to their movement to Georgia.

In December 1980, a search was undertaken for a suitable site for building the Jimmy Carter Library. After surveying a number of sites, one close to downtown Atlanta was selected. The land was owned by the state of Georgia, originally acquired to build an interstate highway. The highway project had been stopped by then Governor Carter. Approximately thirty acres of that land was acquired for the library's site.

The Carter Presidential Library, Inc. was incorporated in the State of Georgia to raise the funds to build the building. An Atlanta architectural firm, Java/Daniels/Busby, in cooperation with Lawton/Umemura/Yamamoto of Hawaii was selected to design the structure. The facility design included not only the presidential library, donated to the federal government (approximately 70,000 square feet), but also privately maintained space, including President Carter's office, offices for foundations he supports, and the Carter Center of Emory University (approximately 60,000 sq.ft.)

Temporary quarters were selected in the former post office building in downtown Atlanta for the twenty-seven million pages of paper and other historical materials from the Carter presidency. A small staff of archivists began processing these materials, preparing them for eventual use by researchers, and working with the architects in designing the facility.

Ground breaking for the entire facility was held on October 2, 1984. Construction costs for the entire facility were $26 million, raised by donations from friends of President Carter from around the world. The building was dedicated and the museum opened to the public October 1, 1986. The research room was opened January 28, 1987.

Fay had kept some documentation on past officers.
It was also suggested that it be documented in the minutes and that we keep an archive of all minutes. Sandra Franklin suggested we fill out a form for each year listing who were the officers, committee chair and members were for that year. So that Amy could write a letter to whomever needed it or organization verifying that this person served as chair, officer or was a member of a committee for said year.
Amy said whatever we came up with we needed to be consistent in the wording or form.

II. Approval of Previous Minutes

Amy asks for review of the minutes from the previous meeting. Minor spelling and membership corrections are made. Anne Kramer moves that the minutes be approved as amended. Tara Douglas-Williams seconds.

III. Committee Reports

Education Committee – Anne Kramer/Chair

Anne Kramer has invited Ovid representative Sean Keough to this meeting to explain possible discounted offers for the Consortium. Specific propositions he will address regard the Lippincott Williams-Wilkins journal and book collection. He will make a presentation after the business meeting.

The next AHSCLC meeting will be in Athens. Lee McCarley will present a program about PDA use in medical libraries. The meeting may start early because of the long drive to Athens and the possible longer than usual length of the presentation. Details are forthcoming.

Another future meeting Anne is lining up will feature Sandra Franklin from Emory talking about statewide medical libraries out-reach programs to public libraries.
Technology Committee – Edie Lacy/Chair

Technology committee chair Edie Lacy is not in attendance, but did send an informational handout.

Mia White presents the new AHSCLC website that she and Marilyn Barry have created. Mia notes that there have been some minor changes to the site, primarily graphics changes. Additionally, some sections are password protected, such as the membership list, minutes, and bylaws. The site is hosted on the GHSLA server. The new address is: www.ghsla.org/AHSCLC. Mia thanks the GHSLA group and suggests activity in GHSLA.

Linda Venis mentions that a list of “favorite” Internet sites of AHSCLC librarians is available to put on the site. She’ll email it to Mia and who will upload it. Marilyn notes that address labels for AHSCLC members are on the site also for the meeting hosts to print off for meeting invitations.

Amy thanks Mia and Marilyn and notes that the site is evolving and asks for members to suggest ideas.

Membership Committee – Susan Lee/Chair

Membership committee representative Stacie Waddell presents the committee report, as Susan Lee is at MLA. The group outing idea received only six responses. Of the responses, the High Museum or Carlos Museum were slightly favored. Members did not want to participate in activities on weekends. Because of the lack of interest the committee will table the issue for now and will wait until approached by members about activities. Tim suggests going to the Atlanta Botanical Gardens.

Stacie asks that members inform the committee of any member accomplishments that should be announced. On that note, Stacie says that Susan Lee applied for and received a scanner grant from NLM.

Stacie says that there was interest in the idea of honoring library support staff. Pamela Queen relates that it might be a good idea to honor library staffs two at a time to avoid the extra costs for the library hosting that particular meeting. November was the month of choice if a one-time event. The group is queried whether they would like to do the honoring year round, or just once? No clear favorite emerges. Anne suggests contacting a library services vendor for support, noting that Ovid has agreed to support the next meeting in Athens.

The Membership Directory will be e-mailed out for approval/corrections by June 18th. Stacie will send it to Amy who will send it out to all. Amy notes that the member e-mail list has had some problems. If a member hasn’t received any e-mail lately, they should contact Amy and let her know.

Strategic Planning Committee – Pat Herndon/Chair

Pat Herndon presents an update on the strategic planning process. She is working to plan the 30th anniversary party. A restaurant has been selected and the event will be open to members and their significant other. Pat asks for help in selecting entertainment and members for recognition.

Pat is also head of strategic planning for GHSLA. She states that GHSLA will issue a position statement in support of JCAHO review of guidelines for medical libraries. She will work to create a draft statement. She has been in touch with an MLA JCAHO representative for advice on effective language and submission procedures.
IV. Old Business

A committee has proposed changes to the by-law. Mary Larsen of Fernbank prepared the document.

An addition has been made to propose that only representatives of Member Institutes should be present at the Business meeting. Guests to the Business meeting should be invited only with prior approval of the Chairperson. Statements about statistical reporting for the group have been deleted. Limited membership may be held by libraries to be eligible for document delivery participated. Additionally, retired individuals can be given Honorary/Emeritus members non-voting status. Amy calls for discussion and comments.

Linda Venis asks if it is a requirement to be a document delivery site to be a full member? Amy says for Full member, the institution must be a DOCLINE OR OCLC member. Mia questions the Section 5 revision. Amy says the statement is trying to make sure that vendors and such aren't allowed to attend the business meetings.

Pamela Queen moves that the by-laws be approved. Tara Douglas-Williams seconds.

Amy presents certificates for committee and board heads of last year to Anne, Pat, Tara, Paula, Edie, and Susan.

V. New Business

Amy states that a member suggested doing a salary survey for use in working with their administration when negotiating salaries. Although SLA and MLA does salary surveys, there is the need for local/regional data. It would be done through an anonymous survey, possibly online with the intention of being ready for early next year. Mia says it can be hosted off of the GHSLA/AHSLC website. She suggests possibly using an online survey software, such as “Survey Monkey” or some other similar system.

Amy reminds about the MLA benchmarking survey. She says that Linda Garr Markwell says that only five libraries in the south have participated. The deadline is June 30. The website is: www.mlanet.org. The survey is in the members-only section.

VI. Announcements

Amy states that meeting hosts are needed for next year (2005). She asks that members please check with their administration and let Amy or Anne know if they are able to host.

Anne mentions she wants to bring the Up-To-Date company to a meeting for a presentation. She has discussed discount programs for the Consortium with them and they offer no group pricing and fees are not negotiable.

Anne congratulates Pat for getting the Gwinnett Health System online catalog up and running using Softlink America.

Members are encouraged to come to Athens in July for the next meeting.

Minutes

Executive Committee Meeting
July 9th 2004

Chair Amy Harkness calls the meeting to order at 1:20.

Present at Meeting:
Tara Douglas-Williams    Edie Lacy
Amy Harkness             Susan Lee
Anne Kramer              Sharon Leslie

I. Approval of Previous Minutes

Amy asks for review of the minutes from the previous executive committee meeting. Edie Lacy moves that the minutes be approved, Anne Kramer seconds.

II. Committee Issues

Amy asks if there are any issues that need to be brought up now instead of waiting until the regular meeting the following week, July 15th.

Anne Kramer, Chair of the Education Committee notes that Ovid has supplied funding for giveaways at the next member meeting. She purchased two $25 T.J. Maxx gift certificates and two $25 Longhorn Steakhouse gift certificates. She notes that the Ovid rep will be at the meeting to give an up-date on the journal and book proposal.

Edie Lacy, Chair of the Technology Committee says she needs more members on her committee to share the workload.

Anne suggests that each committee should have a short break-out meetings at the regular meetings. This would encourage members not on committees to join and be more active. Edie notes that the bylaws used to say that members were obligated to serve on a committee.

The Executive Committee agrees that everyone should serve on a committee and will suggest that everyone join something starting with the January 2005 meeting. Anne suggests that the Executive Committee make personal calls to members who haven’t been coming to meetings to ascertain why and find out what the group can do to make meetings more interesting and appealing. The meeting attendance will be reviewed after the September meeting.

Tara Douglas-Williams asks what happened to the Journal Club that the AHSLC used to have? It is recalled that the club “went by the wayside” once key advocates of it left the consortium. Tara says that people could double up and make presentations. They aren’t formal, just discussion of library issues.
Amy suggests that perhaps making a presentation could substitute for being on a committee.

Susan Lee has no Membership Committee issues to discuss.

III. Old Business

A. 30th Anniversary Party

Paula Christian is assuming responsibilities from Pat Herndon who has left the consortium, but Paula was unable to attend this meeting. The party will be at Fratelli di Napoli on Saturday, October 9th at 6:30 PM. The menu is reviewed and food items are chosen for the evening. The issues of entertainment and presentations must still be formalized.

It is suggested that Steve Kaplan, Faye Evatt, Marilyn Barry and Carol Burns be contacted to see if they have any photographs or paraphernalia to donate for presentation materials. Because of a lack of official materials, it is suggested that someone take photographs at each AHSLC meeting for archival purposes. Marilyn Barry is nominated for this role.

Anne will work with Paula to get funding from vendors. She suggests putting ads for the sponsoring vendors on the AHSLC website. Another suggestion is to put vendor logos on the invitations, on a large sandwich board by the door of the party room, or on table tents by flower arrangements paid for by vendor donations.

Amy will draft the invitations and send them to the Executive Committee for review. They should be in the mail to members by mid-August, with RSVP's due back in mid-September.

Susan suggests having a drawing at the end of the evening to giveaway the table centerpieces. Anne notes that a budget is needed for the decorations, entertainment, etc. Susan says that professional arrangements would cost about $35 and then she could dress them up with additional garnish.

B. Officer and Committee Chair Duties and Responsibilities Form

Amy hands out a revised list of Officer and Committee Chair Duties and Responsibilities. She will add that the webmaster is part of the Technology Committee. Anne will make revisions to her section and give them to Amy. Amy has created a “task list” for the Chairperson of each committee so that expected duties are clear when a new person takes the position. This document will be put in the main documentation notebook and be passed on to the new chairs and officers at the November meeting.

It is noted that each of the Committee Chairs are coming to the end of their terms. Edie suggests that perhaps each chair could step back to member status in the committee to help pass on knowledge. They could drop off after a year if they wanted.

C. Website

1. Committee Pages
Web pages will be created for each committee. They will contain the Committee Chair Duties and Responsibilities list and information about each committee. It should be up by the September meeting.

2. Membership Directory

Stacie Waddell is compiling the directory and will submit it to Mia Sohn White for uploading to the website. It will be password protected.

3. Hospital Library Profiles

Tara will create a template for the profiles.

Other information such as favorite websites, Blogs and a profile of software and services that each library has will also be added to the website. A Software/Services profile will be an excel file list for instance, the library name and what vendors they use, such as Serials Solutions, EBSCO, etc. so that other libraries may contact them with questions about products.

IV. New Business

A. Member Survey

Amy passes out a member survey and asks for comments. The intention of the survey is to evaluate members’ satisfaction with the AHSLC and its usefulness to members.

Various issues come up while discussing the survey. Anne wonders if there should be annual dues for each institution? This could help pay for CME credits, refreshments, entertainment, etc. The Committee wonders if it is legal to charge annual dues? Amy will discuss the issue with Sandra Franklin. Edie suggests offering CME credits to other groups and institutions in the region. Anne remarks that a CME-specific person may need to be on the Education Committee.

The issue of finding 15 minutes during each meeting for Committee break-out sessions is discussed.

Edie suggests having a talent show to make the meetings more interesting.

Anne notes that socializing with the members is a role of the Executive Committee. Each member of the Executive Committee should be talking with people and mentoring new people at meetings. This will be added to the list of Responsibilities and Duties of Officers and Chairs.

Amy says that at each January meeting everyone should introduce themselves and it would be a more social meeting than the remainder of the meetings.

The survey is reviewed and amended. Amy will create a final copy and distribute it at the up-coming AHSLC meeting.

B. Where to Record/Keep Meeting Guest Information

Amy asks the board to decide where information about guests who attend meetings should be kept. In the past it has been put on the membership directory at the back.
There is concern that because it is on the membership list these people may be receiving packets of information about meetings and other issues. The board decides that the secretary should keep the information separate and for a two-year period only.

V. Announcements

A. New Member Interest – Roosevelt-Warm Springs Institute

Mike Shaddix from the Roosevelt-Warm Springs Institute has applied for membership in the Consortium. He will turn in his application paperwork and be scheduled for a site visit.

The meeting is adjourned at 3:25.

Minutes prepared and submitted by Sharon Leslie, Piedmont Hospital.
Pamela Queen welcomes the group to Athens Regional Hospital. Prior to the meeting she held a tour of her Library. Pam shows her web portal page to the group.

I. Call to Order

Amy Harkness calls the meeting to order at 12:35. Amy thanks Pam for hosting the meeting. Several people are introduced. Karen Preston is a paraprofessional at Life University. Guest Eugenia Abbey was at the VA for 28 years. She has been retired for 12 years but wants to get back into the Library field.

II. Approval of Previous Minutes

The minutes from the previous meeting are reviewed. There is a correction to the spelling of Mike Shadix’s name. Carla Burton motions for approval with the correction, Anne Kramer seconds.

III. Committee Reports

Education Committee – Anne Kramer/Chair

Anne confirms that Lee McCarley will do an Educational program on PDAs at today’s meeting. The program is financially supported by Ovid. The Ovid sales representative, Sean Keough, will be available to discuss the discounted programs he is offering to the Consortium. Ovid has also donated money for giveaways to AHSCLC members today.

Anne notes that the September meeting has been moved to September 30th, instead of the 16th. Sandra Franklin from Emory will talk about Georgia Medical Library Outreach Planning.
Technology Committee - Edie Lacy/Chair

Edie says she has no reports today. She will put out an information sheet via email.

Membership Committee - Susan Lee/Chair

Susan Lee is absent from the meeting. Amy notes that the membership directory was updated and will be emailed out.

IV. Old Business

A. Update on OVID proposal

Anne says that Sean Keough has talked with several libraries about the discounted Ovid products. About five or six libraries are interested in the Lippincott Williams Wilkins Total Access Journal Collection. About four are interested in the Lippincott Book Collection. The more who join in on the book deal the more the price goes down. The Total Access price is static. Enough gateways must also be purchased for each site. Anne reminds the members that as a Consortium the group has the power to get the prices down and should take advantage of this. Sean can talk to others interested in this later during the meeting.

Amy has a list of upcoming meetings and asks people to volunteer to host. Becky Smoke from Dahlonega says it’s hard to get people up to her library because of traffic and lack of funding from her institution. She suggests co-hosting a meeting. She could do the invitations and some of the “leg work”, while another site actually hosts the meeting. Amy thinks this is a great idea and would like to have Becky pair up with another site.

B. Website Update

Mia White is working on the AHSLC web site. The meeting agendas, minutes, list of officers, etc. are being put on the site. An email list will be set up so people can just copy the list from the site and use the addresses for mass emails. The membership directory is also being put up. Institutional library profiles will be placed on the site also. Forms will be sent out for libraries to fill out. A list of favorite web sites will also be put on the site.

Marilyn Barry thanks Lee McCarly for letting the AHSLC website be hosted off of the GHSLA site.

C. 30th Anniversary Party

Amy announces that the anniversary party will be at Fratelli di Napoli in Buckhead on Saturday, October 9th, at 6:30 PM. Fratelli’s serves family-style Italian meals. There is a separate party room on a back terrace. Amy says volunteers are needed to help with entertainment or acknowledgement of past members, etc. If members have ideas or skills let Marilyn Barry know, because she has volunteered to work on that project.
V. New Business

A. Request for membership application by Roosevelt-Warm Springs Institute for Rehabilitation

Amy states that an application has been sent to Mike Shadix of Roosevelt-Warm Springs Institute for Rehabilitation for membership. His interest is appreciated, as is his attendance at the meetings.

B. Member Survey

The Executive Committee decided to put together a member survey to evaluate how the organization is doing. Members are asked to contribute and ask their staff who come to meetings to fill out the survey also. Amy wants feedback to make sure the group is doing well and performing to its member's expectations.

VI. Announcements

A. Revised meeting dates for rest of the year

Amy notes the changes in the September meeting date and from November 18th to the 10th.

B. Updated membership and responsibility bylaws

Completed copies of the updated membership and responsibility bylaws are available at the front table.

I. Call to Order

Amy Harkness calls the meeting to order at 12:35 PM. Amy thanks Anne for hosting the meeting and asks everyone to sign the attendance sheet. All present members introduce themselves.

II. Approval of Previous Minutes

The minutes from the previous meeting are reviewed. No corrections are suggested. Stacie Waddell motions to approve the minutes, which is seconded by Marilyn Barry.

III. Committee Reports

Education Committee - Anne Kramer
Anne thanks Sandra Franklin for coming to today’s meeting to give an update on Georgia Health Information Outreach Planning and Evaluation. Anne also mentions that our next meeting in November will be informal and interactive, wherein members will talk about their library's goals or good ideas they've implemented over the last year. The StatRef! deal will be discussed at the next meeting with Glenn Joyner, the StatRef! representative.

Technology Committee – Edie Lacy
Edie was not present, but in her stead Amy Harkness distributed a handout on PDA resources

Membership Committee – Susan Lee
Susan notes that the membership directory has been distributed, and donations to the Sunshine Fund were solicited. Paula Christian adds that flowers were just sent to Brenda Wimberly after her surgery.

IV. Old Business
Website Update

Amy says that a Web site update will be given at our next meeting. She briefly discussed that the directory will be put on the Web site, as will information about AHSLC's first 30 years.

V. New Business
A. Amy asks members to consider hosting a meeting next year and passes around the meeting sign-up sheet.

B. Mike Shadix from Roosevelt Warm Springs has submitted his membership form. Amy opens the floor for questions about Roosevelt Warm Springs. Amy motions a vote for full membership for Roosevelt Warm Springs. Paula Christian and Susan Lee second the vote. Roosevelt Warm Springs is voted to full membership with an 18-majority vote.

C. The results from the Executive Committee's Member Survey indicate a split between holding meetings bi-monthly or quarterly. Amy opens the floor for discussion. Paula Christian says that she appreciates the fellowship the bi-monthly meetings afford. Susan Lee suggests that perhaps some non-traditional meetings, such as interactive or online classes, could be done. Carolyn Brown, in keeping with Susan's suggestion for one or two non-traditional meetings, suggested that AHSLC consider meeting with other library groups in the area. Marilyn Barry expressed concern that, for one-person or small libraries, staff leaving for such meetings can impact library services, library users, and resource availability. Stacie Waddell suggested that AHSLC try quarterly meetings in 2005 with the understanding that, should the group find that two fewer meetings per year has a negative affect on the group, a return to bi-monthly meetings would be made. It was decided to table the issue and to take a vote at the next meeting in November.

D. Amy reminds the members that the nominating committee for next year's officers needs to be created. Amy Harkness and Tara Douglas-Williams will lead the committee, and Paula Christian and Anne Kramer will provide assistance.

Announcements

A. The 30th Anniversary Party at Fratelli di Napoli's has been cancelled due to lack of interest. Celebrations will be incorporated into the November meeting. Marilyn Barry solicits help and interest for AHSLC Jeopardy, which will be played at the November meeting.

B. Eva Lautemann at Georgia Perimeter College, Clarkston Campus has expressed interest in AHSLC membership. Amy has sent all membership forms to Eva.

C. Amy mentions that Gwinnett County Public Library, with the National Library of Medicine, will sponsor a continuing education course in Gwinnett for Level one consumer health librarian credentialing. Costs are discussed. The class will be early next year.

D. Sandra Franklin requests a status update on the salary survey. Amy responds that the consortium definitely plans on having a salary survey but that project just has not yet been completed. Sandra Franklin offers Emory as a data collection center. Amy suggests that anyone else interested in helping with the survey email either Amy of Sandra. Pam Queen and Carla Burton offer their assistance.

IV. Old Business

Amy revisits the discussion from our last meeting about possibly decreasing the number of meetings the consortium has each year. A vote was taken, and this suggestion was approved by a majority of 24 votes.

V. New Business

Corrections to the November 18, 2004 minutes:
- In the list of attendees, take out the extra “e” in Brenda Curry-Wimberly’s name.
- Under Committee Reports it states “Web Site Committee”, and it is not a committee, so it should read as “Web Site Update”.
- Under New Business, the approved slate of officers should read “Linda Venis - Technology”, not Linda Veins.
- Under Announcements, part A. it states “Sharon Lacy” and should be changed to Sharon Leslie.

Linda Venis moved to have the minutes approved with the noted corrections. Edie Lacy seconded the motion. Members voted to approve the minutes with noted corrections.

The executive committee of the Atlanta Health Science Library Consortium met via e-mail on Friday, August 5, 2005.

The following members participated in the meeting: Pamela Queen, Linda Venis, Stacie Waddell, Amy Harkness, Mike Shadix and Tara Douglas Williams. Steve Koplan participated by submitting his comments in advance to Tara Douglas Williams.

Tara Douglas Williams called the meeting to order at 10 a.m.

The first order of business was a review of the upcoming salary survey. The members looked over a draft of the survey and recommended the addition of GLA (Georgia Library Association) and MALA (Metro Atlanta Library Association) to the list of organizations in question 7. The members also requested that question 6 be rewritten to make it clear that respondents should list all graduate degrees they possess whether or not they have a masters degree in library science. Question 9 will also be clarified so that respondents will know whether the question is seeking years a medical librarian or years as a librarian of any type.

Amy Harkness then gave an update on the consumer health training to be offered on Nov. 16 and 17 in Gwinnett County. The Georgia Health Science Library Association and the Gwinnett County Public Library are cooperating to offer four classes over the two days. Those who complete the four classes will become MLA certified consumer health librarians. The creation of brochures for the training will be completed and distributed soon.

Tara Douglas-Williams solicited suggestions on workshops the organization could offer to paraprofessional librarians working at the member institutions. The suggestions included customer service, online searching techniques, interlibrary loan protocols, computer troubleshooting, DOCLINE, PubMed, Linkout and an overview of the new paraprofessional degree program at Georgia Perimeter College. Stacie Waddell, Linda Venis and Steve Koplan will form a committee to organize workshops on these subjects to be offered at one of the consortium's meetings next year.

Tara Douglas-Williams also asked for input about increasing membership participation at meetings and on committees. Several suggestions were brought forward. To increase participation, the Consortium could increase communication with the membership between meetings and contact all members who have not been attending meetings and invite them to return. The consortium might also make a practice of inviting members to make educational presentations at meetings emphasizing the collegial, friendly nature of the group. The format of these presentations could vary from panel discussions about library issues to brief presentations about member libraries or recent articles in the professional literature. Tara pledged to send out additional e-mails to the membership between the scheduled meetings and refer the other ideas to the Education Committee.

The final item of business was the membership application submitted by the Georgia Medical Institute. The members of the executive committee expressed concerns about several aspects of the application. Tara asked the committee to e-mail their concerns to her. If necessary, she will appoint a committee to seek clarification of issues and determine whether the library of the Georgia Medical Institute meets the minimum requirements for admission into the consortium. The application will be brought up again at a later meeting.

The meeting adjourned at 12 p.m.

Call to Order and Approval of the Minutes:
President Tara Douglas-Williams called the business meeting to order at 12:36 p.m. The membership approved the minutes of the July meeting on a motion by Marilyn Barry seconded by Linda Venis.

Committee Reports:
Membership: Stacie Waddell passed around the updated membership list for final review and asked that corrections be submitted to her as soon as possible. The new membership list will be printed soon and distributed. The new information will also be added to the web page. Waddell also reported that $39.50 was collected for the Sunshine Fund during the July meeting. She encouraged more donations to the fund so the organization can continue to send get well cards, sympathy cards and notes of congratulations to consortium members as appropriate.

Education: Steve Koplan thanked everyone for participating in the survey about wireless computer network access and announced that the results would be distributed during a presentation later in the meeting. He also solicited more suggestions for educational programs.

Technology: Linda Venis distributed the list of online tutorials that the committee has created for the web page. Continued suggestions for the list are welcome. Venis called for volunteers to do a comparison of Medline vendors. The group will examine the qualities of the OVID, EBSCO and Pubmed search software to help consortium members choose which system is best for their patrons and for themselves. Mary Ellen Nolan volunteered to study OVID, Steve Koplan volunteered for EBSCO and Todd Prusin volunteered for Pubmed. Venis asked if the membership was still interested in learning about Adobe Acrobat software. Seeing that there was still interest, Venis announced that she would prepare a “Tips and Tricks” sheet for Adobe for the next meeting, and the technology committee would put together an education program about it for next year.

Old Business:
Douglas-Williams reminded the membership that the salary survey is still open at surveymonkey.com and encouraged those present to complete the survey if they have not already done so. The results of the survey will be distributed at the November meeting.

The president also distributed registration forms for the consumer health certification classes offered next month by the Georgia Health Science Library Association and the Gwinnett County Public Library. She encouraged the members to sign up for the classes because they will allow librarians to receive MLA’s consumer health specialist certificate at a reduced price. The four courses will be offered on Nov. 16 and 17 at Gwinnett Technical College.

The meeting schedule for next year is nearly set. It will be completed after a few final confirmations are received.

New Business
Sandra Franklin announced that Atlanta would be the site of the 2006 Southern Chapter meeting. It will be a joint meeting of the Southern Chapter and the Mid-Atlantic Chapter. So about 300 participants are expected. Franklin passed out a sign-up sheet for volunteers to help with the local arrangements. Franklin, director of the Emory Health Science Center Library; Jocelyn Rankin, director of the CDC Information Center and Cynthia Henderson, director of the Morehouse School of Medicine Library are serving as co-chairs of the local arrangements committee with Russet Hambrick of the Mid-Atlantic Chapter.

Presentations
Steve Koplan spoke about the new Library and Information Technology program (LIST) at Georgia Perimeter College. The first classes will be offered in January. Koplan has led the development of this program over the last four years.

The business meeting adjourned at 1:13 p.m.

Other Presentations
Tara Douglas-Williams demonstrated the web-based information resource she and other librarians created for the employees of the Tenet Health System. There are 69 Tenet hospitals around the country.

Steve Koplan and Karen Preston delivered an education program about Wi-Fi access to computer networks.

The Atlanta Health Science Library Consortium met at Wellstar Kennestone Hospital on March 16, 2006. Pamela Queen called the meeting to order at 12:15 PM and asked the membership to approve the minutes of the January 2006 meeting. The minutes were approved unanimously.

Committee Reports:

Membership: Stacie Waddell gave the committee report. We currently have $97.00 in the Sunshine Fund. Please remember to send any directory changes to Stacie.

Education: Steve Koplan reminded members to send him any ideas for upcoming programs. The committee has received many requests for technology topics and may be offering a program on open access or changes in publishing during upcoming meetings.

Technology: Linda Venis congratulated Amy Harkness on her great work on the AHSCL website, http://www.ghsja.org/AHSCL.

Old Business

Paula Christian asked for donations for door prizes for the joint Southern Chapter/Mid-Atlantic Chapter meeting of MLA.

New Business

Sandra Franklin made two announcements concerning the Emory Crawford Long Hospital Library: 1. That Crawford Long's Educational Information & Media Services department has decided not to replace librarian Todd Prusin, but contract with Cadence for library services at Crawford Long Hospital Medical Library, and 2. In the transition, Emory Health Sciences discovered that Crawford Long was supplying articles electronically for interlibrary loan. Sandra asked that the practice cease, citing the reason that journals in the Emory e-journals database are licensed primarily by the Health Sciences Center Library or General (Woodruff) Library. For the publisher licenses that allow interlibrary loan, the clause states that journal articles should be printed then mailed and shared via fax or sent via Ariel. Some licenses say not to advertise ILL or share only if the request comes from non-commercial or non-profit. Since Crawford Long Medical Library does not license electronic journals for Emory, staff at Crawford Long should not share Emory e-journal articles via PDF for ILL. Crawford Long may provide interlibrary loan from its print subscriptions. ILLs filled for AHSCL members by the Emory Health Sciences Center Library are billed at $5.00 each.

Sandra Franklin asked for volunteers to staff the registration desk at the SC/MLA meeting in October.

Pamela Queen announced that Cathy Woolbright has left Columbus Regional and there are no immediate plans for the library. The library is currently not listed in Docline.
Brenda Curry-Wimberly, who is serving as the chair of the SC/MLA Hospital Library Committee, announced that the speaker for the SC/MLA Hospital Librarians luncheon will be Rosalind Lett, who will speak on Metrics that Matter. Nominations for hospital librarian of the year award will be requested soon.

Tara Douglas-Williams announced that the site for GHSLA 2007 will be Chateau Elan, Brasstown Valley Resort, or Callaway Gardens.

The business meeting adjourned at 12:45 PM and was followed by a presentation by Jeannie Steelman on Adobe Acrobat. This was followed by a presentation on new changes in UpToDate.

Call to Order

Pamela Queen called the meeting to order at 10:30 AM.

Committee Reports:

Membership: Stacie asked the committee about spotlighting new members on the website. This was approved unanimously and Stacie will begin this process. She also asked the group about undertaking a survey of members to find out what products and vendors various members use. This was approved unanimously and Stacie will begin this process.

Education: Steve Koplan reminded members of the December 1 program, featuring David Free, Reference Librarian at Georgia Perimeter College's Decatur campus speaking on podcasting, and Tim Daniels, Information Commons Coordinator at Georgia State University speaking on blogging. Steve has also considered inviting Barbara Peterson from Georgia State University in Alpharetta to speak, as her library is entirely virtual. Steve has received requests from the Rittenhouse, McGraw-Hill and Krames representatives to speak at meetings. This opened a discussion about how the committee should consider offers to speak from vendors. It was decided that vendors should be limited to demonstrating new products or holding an educational program, and that these programs should be focused on those vendors willing to consider consortia pricing for their products.

Amy Harkness noted that the September meeting at Piedmont will include a presentation by Piedmont physician Dr. Waters.
Technology: Linda Venis stated that the September program will include a list of PDA sites for physicians, which will also be on the website.

Webmaster: Amy Harkness asked for feedback on the website and asked how often the password should be changed. It was decided that Amy is doing an excellent job keeping the site up to date and that the password did not need to be changed.

Old Business

Pamela Queen distributed a list of members in non-compliance and opened a discussion of what action to take. It was decided that a letter will be sent from the executive committee asking these members to meet requirements for membership in the next year. Pamela will undertake this task.

New Business

Pamela Queen opened a discussion on how long members can be a guest before they need to become a member. The minimum requirements for membership are listed online.

Mike Shadix opened a discussion on possible outreach to local medical associations. It was decided to continue the discussion in the members meeting later today.

Committee Reports:

Nominating: The Nominating Committee consists of Marilyn Barry, Amy Allison, and Paula Christian. They will present a slate of officers for 2007 at the December 1 meeting.

Membership: Stacie Waddell gave the committee report. We currently have $53.00 in the Sunshine Fund. Stacie is currently updating the directory and will send out a new directory within the next month. Stacie will also be sending a survey to members on their use of products and vendors. It was discussed whether or not the guest list was included in the directory, and Stacie stated that these individuals were not included in the last directory and would not continue to be included in upcoming directories.

Education: No report.

Technology: No report.

Webmaster: Amy Harkness reminded members to tell her of any updates or changes that need to be made to the website. She will be out on maternity leave beginning mid-October but will still be able to make updates.

Old Business

Institutions not meeting their member requirements were sent a letter inquiring about their continued participation in AHSLC. A discussion ensued about continuing some of these organizations as ex officio or former members. The executive board will meet before the December 1 meeting to discuss further.

Pamela Queen inquired about the need for a statistician, in order to ensure that no one organization bears the burden of interlibrary loans. No one present felt that any institution was requesting too many ILLs, and that a statistician is not needed.

New Business

Pamela Queen encouraged individuals to become active on committees and reminded everyone to be inclusive and supportive of all members, both old and new.

Announcements

The May 2007 meeting has been changed from May 17 to Friday, May 11 at DeKalb Medical Center. The March 2007 meeting will be held on March 12 at Piedmont in conjunction with a presentation by Donald Lindberg from the National Library of Medicine.

Mia White thanked those members who provided donations for the Southern Chapter MLA meeting and reminded members there was still time to register for the meeting in October. She also announced the new Associate Director of the WHSCL, Anna Getselman.

Pamela Queen reminded members of the Georgia Health Sciences Library Association meeting the weekend of March 9, 2007.

Call to Order

Pamela Queen called the meeting to order at 10:45 AM.

Committee Reports:

Membership: Stacie reported that she had received eight responses to the vendor survey. She will complete this survey and compile the final report in January. Sharon Leslie questioned the group about vendors being included on the membership list. After discussion, it was decided that vendors should not be included on the membership list, but that other guests and affiliate members will remain. Stacie will be able to provide a list of vendors and vendor contacts in the final report of the vendor survey.

Education: Steve thanked Linda for their two committees work together this year, and noted that in the future this good relationship between the two committees should continue.

Technology: Linda Venis echoed Steve's hopes for the future committee collaborations. She also mentioned that she will be providing a PDA handout to members at today's meeting. It was discussed whether the meeting host or the education committee usually plans the meetings. The consensus was that the education committee usually does, but the meeting host can plan the meeting.

I. Call to Order

The meeting is called to order by Mike Shadix at 12:36 PM, and he welcomed all Members and guests to Argosy University. Betts Markle, Argosy University’s Library Director, next welcomes all Members and introduces Christa Holton, Director of Admissions for Argosy University. Christa welcomes the Membership and spoke about Argosy University.

II. Approval of Previous Minutes

The minutes from the previous meeting are reviewed. Tara Douglas-Williams’ name needs to be added to the December meeting’s attendance list. David McCullough motions to approve the minutes with changes, which is seconded by Tara Douglas Williams.

III. Committee Reports

Membership Committee
Sharon Leslie has added AHIP certification as appropriate to the directory. She has also removed Fernbank and Northlake libraries from the directory, as these libraries have closed. Sharon requests contributions to the Sunshine Fund and discusses the next AHSLC meeting at Piedmont Hospital. The next AHSLC meeting will be an afternoon through evening meeting. Dr. Lindberg, National Library of Medicine’s Director, will be speaking.
Stacie Waddell announces that the AHSLC Product Survey is nearly complete. Several libraries still need to submit their information, and all libraries should review the information for accuracy. Stacie will make any additions or updates and will then forward the survey to Amy Harkness for posting on the Web site.

Education
Karen Preston requests ideas for upcoming education programs. She suggests the topic of Go Local on MedlinePlus as a possible program.

Technology
Emily Lawson is not present; no update is given.

Webmaster
Amy Harkness is not present. Mike Shadix shares that the 2007 schedule of meetings has been updated on the Web site.

IV. Old Business

The AHSLC Product Survey is the only old business. Stacie Waddell updated Members during the Membership Committee Report.

V. New Business

Mike introduces the topic of inviting vendor representatives to meetings. Several Members agree that taking a hiatus from vendors at AHSLC meetings should be enacted. Tara Douglas-Williams suggests vendors be told explicitly that, for our having provided a captive audience of potential customers, we expect discounted consortium pricing for the vendors’ products. Ann Kramer agrees, and Pam Queen suggests this idea be emailed to all Members for approval. Also, vendors should be supportive of libraries at the state level, namely at GHSLA. Linda Venis suggests that vendors at the meetings can be valuable but that their presentations should be more educational in nature rather than a sales visit. Linda Garr Markwell suggests that we learn how other consortia negotiate deals with vendors and how vendor visits are handled and offered to obtain this information. Per Tara Douglas-Williams, the GHSLA business meeting agenda can include consortium-vendor relations, particularly regarding pricing. Mike Shadix summarizes that much is to be considered on the topic and that, in the interest of time, the issue should be tabled at present. The topic of vendor visits and consortium pricing will be revisited at the next meeting.

There is no additional new business.
V. Announcements

A. Mike reminds Members that the next meeting will be at Piedmont in the afternoon and into the evening.

B. Tara Douglas-Williams reminds Members to sign up for the GHSLA conference in March and encourages Members to join GHSLA if they have yet to do so.

C. Guest Mary Zischke asks the Membership to share any job openings with her.

III. Announcements

IV. Old Business

Mike Shadix revisits the idea of vendor presentations at the AHSLC meetings. He reviews his understanding of the Consortium’s intentions: that we will limit vendor presentations and instead rely on members to do product reviews and training. We will only welcome those vendors to the meetings that are ready to give us competitive consortium deals and that we will be forthright about this stipulation when speaking with vendors. Mike voices concern that this new practice might mean we are sacrificing certain benefits of having vendors involved in our meetings. He cites free lunches at some of the meetings as an example.

Brenda Curry-Wimberly suggests that AHSLC have a vendor fair each year or every other year and that we stress to vendor fair participants that their support at GHSLA will be viewed with great favor by the AHSLC Members. It was suggested that AHSLC invite only those vendors with Point of Care products to our first vendor fair.

Mike Shadix suggests that AHSLC only invite those vendors from whom we want consortium deals and that everyone should review the Product Survey to see which vendors we’d like to invite. The need for a subcommittee to research Point of Care products is proposed. Marilyn Barry and Linda Garr Markwell offer to investigate Point of Care products and report back to AHSLC Members in May as to what products are available.

Linda Garr Markwell offers to contact Florida about their methods of consortium negotiation; Linda also shares with the Consortium that Savannah, GA plans to revive their medical libraries consortium, so we may be able to work with them or learn negotiating techniques from them. Per Linda, Emory is trialing some new products, and she will report back to the Consortium on these products in May.

V. New Business

Mandy Bayer is leaving Foothills AHEC and has taken an outreach position with NN/LM in Boston.

Tara Douglas-Williams thanks everyone who participated in GHSLA and will put the PowerPoint presentations on the GHSLA Web site.

I. Call to Order

Mike Shadix calls the meeting to order at 12:37 PM and welcomes the Members.

II. Approval of Minutes

The minutes from the previous meeting are reviewed. No corrections are suggested. Amy Allison motions to approve the minutes, which is seconded by Tara Douglas-Williams.

III. Announcements

Lauren Benevich tells the Members that the July meeting date has changed to Thursday, July 26th. Lauren advises of very strict security at Solvay, and so all members must RSVP before the meeting.

IV. Old Business

Marilyn Barry and Linda Markwell present their findings about vendor deals. The presentation includes: information on issues when considering consortium purchasing; questions for vendors; questions for exploration and discussion; possible NNLM SE/A consortia purchasing; Web site URLs for two regions currently involved in consortium purchasing; statement of principles for negotiating licenses; Web site URLs for libraries involved in group purchasing; and a summary of Marilyn & Linda’s findings.

The Members discuss the presentation and possible avenues for AHSLC to explore with respect to group pricing. Edie Lacy suggests that we wait to learn what SE/A can accomplish with group purchasing but that we should have a plan B should SE/A not be successful.

Anne Kramer presents information from STAT!Ref on group pricing that she recently acquired. She suggests that the AHSLC Product Survey be upgraded to include very specific information about each library’s database licenses. For example, it would be helpful to know which EBSCO databases each library has, rather than just that they have a license with EBSCO. Tara Douglas-Williams, Mike Shadix, and Karen Preston volunteer to help with the second iteration of the product survey. Amy Allison offers assistance with data entry. Stacie Waddell suggests that Sharon Leslie should be included in any changes to the survey.

The STAT!Ref information is further discussed, and it is noted that the following libraries already use STAT!Ref: Atlanta Medical Center, Children’s Hospital, Life University, Dekalb Medical Center, Piedmont Hospital, and Wellstar Hospitals. If additional libraries are interested, the group pricing proposed by STAT!Ref could be a viable option for some AHSLC libraries. As presented by Erica at STAT!Ref, the proffered pricing deal is for ten libraries with seven concurrent users. The issue will be revisited at a future AHSLC meeting.

V. New Business

Mike Shadix asks the Members if the login information to the AHSLC Web page should be changed. The Members decided to leave the login information as is.

VI. Committee Reports

Education Committee
Karen Preston asks for input on future education sessions. Emily Lawson proposes a journal club for future meetings. The first journal club session will be held at the July meeting. Tim Lammers proposes that perhaps MLA credit could be given to journal club participants. Emily Lawson agrees to research that possibility.

Technology Committee
No Technology report is given.

Membership Committee
No Membership report is given.

VII. Adjournment

VI. Adjournment
I. Call to order and approval of the minutes
Mike Shadix called the meeting to order at 12:35. The minutes were approved unanimously.

II. Committee Reports
   b. Technology – Karen Preston presented an update on the Go Local project.
      Georgia Go Local should be launched in fall 2007 or winter 2008, with publicity in spring of 2008. The project is still looking for indexers if anyone is interested.
   c. Membership – Sharon Leslie asked for suggestions for Sunshine Fund recipients. The Sunshine Fund currently has $72.00.

III. Old Business
   a. Journal Club – Sharon Leslie presented the report. Sharon, Emily Lawson, and Stacie Waddell decided on four options for the group to consider for journal club. The first option is to use articles from the MLA independent reading program, then individuals who want continuing education credit can send $15 and an application directly to MLA. The second option is for a convenor to fill out the paperwork, and AHSLC pays $50 per article for the whole group to receive continuing education credits. The third option is to receive no credit. The last option is to choose our own articles, and then each person can fill out the paperwork for continuing education credit, but the amount of credit received is unknown. The group decided on the first option, and Sharon, Emily, and Stacie will choose the article for the next meeting.

b. StatRef deal – Anne Kramer presented an overview of the StatRef proposal for those not present at the last meeting. She has discussed it with Erica Ross, the StatRef representative, who determined that the timing is really not good, since a number of customers have already renewed for next year. Erica will discuss the deal again for next year with those who expressed interest.

c. Other vendor deals – Anne has also discussed discount pricing with Sean Keough at Ovid, who discovered that our consortium pricing is already the best in the nation, and with Matt Martin at Ebsco. Matt is looking into consortium pricing for Dynamed and CINAHL Plus with full text. There is also the possibility of working with Karen Roth and the Tampa consortium. There was discussion about what products people would be interested in purchasing through the consortium, and that discussion will continue on email.

IV. New Business
No new business

V. Announcements
Linda Garr Markwell introduced Mary Cassanova from CDC. Kate Daniels announced dates for GHSLA 2008 – March 6-8, 2008, at Lake Blackshear Resort in Cordele, Georgia.

Consortium Pricing Update
Mike Shadix is still discussing with the Tampa Bay Consortium the possibility of joining together to secure a better pricing agreement with EBSCO on a couple of its information products: CINAHL Plus with Fulltext and DynaMed. Mike will send an email to all AHSLC members requesting interest & also the renewal date for those that already have CINAHL Plus with Fulltext. Mike will also speak to CINAHL about pro-rating costs for those AHSLC institutions that renew their license before the consortium deal is made, should AHSLC choose to participate.

Mary Ellen Nolan gives an excellent overview of CINAHL Plus with Fulltext for all in attendance.

VI. New Business

Nominating Committee
Mike Shadix requests volunteers to serve on the Nominating Committee for the 2008 board. Pam Queen and Mary Ellen Nolan will serve with Mike on the Nominating Committee. The Nominating Committee will present a slate of officers at the November meeting.

November Meeting
The November meeting, to be held at Northside, needs to be rescheduled to November 29th.

2008 Meeting Sites
Mike Shadix requests volunteers to host next year's meetings.

- Catherine Williams Parker & Morehouse College will host the March meeting.
• Emily Lawson & Egleston will host the September meeting.
• Mary Ellen Nolan will ask if Gwinnett Hospital System can host a meeting.
• Liz Marvel will check with Edie Lacy at Piedmont about hosting a meeting.

Paper Conservation
Todd Prusin expresses concern about the amount of paper used at AHSLC meetings. Currently, the Secretary brings copies of the last month’s meeting minutes and the current meeting’s agenda. However, many members come to the meeting with their own copies of the minutes and the agenda, supplanting the need for copies to be made available at the meeting.

Todd suggests that members be responsible for bringing their own copies of the agenda and minutes, with the understanding that no copies will be available at the meeting but that people will certainly share their copies for review. Alternatively, members will not print their own individual copies and instead plan to use those supplied by the Secretary at the meeting site.

Todd’s conservation proposal is enthusiastically supported by all present AHSLC members. Todd and the Secretary will work together to decrease the amount of paper used by the Consortium and will be sure to email all members before the meetings, advising them as to whether copies of the minutes and agenda will or will not be made available at the meeting site.

Database Review
Mary Ellen Nolan suggests that members volunteer to review databases and make an educational presentation on a database to the Members at future meetings. The Members approve the idea, and Mike will send an email requesting volunteers for future meetings.

Personnel Change
Mike Shadix announces that Stacie Waddell has left her position at Shepherd Center and is now a medical librarian at Piedmont Hospital. Mary Kay Howard, formerly the Library Assistant at Shepherd Center, has accepted the position of Library and Archives Manager at Shepherd Center.

Journal Club

July 17 – CDC
September 18 – Eggleston
November 20 – Gwinnett Hospital
Kate suggested we change the date of the March meeting because the Georgia Health Sciences Library Association’s annual meeting will be held March 6-8. Brenda suggested we keep the date as it is difficult to find meeting space.
Vendors
Mike asked the group if we should revisit the idea of inviting vendors to the meetings as we have not had any for the last year. Tara suggested having a vendor fair. Brenda agreed as it let’s everyone know ahead of time about new products. Anne pointed out that vendors are also solicited by GHSLA for annual meeting support. Linda suggested we limit vendor participation to those that have a presentation of interest. Mike said we should be consistent in our responses to vendors questions about attending. Brenda said we should refer all inquiries to the AHSLC Chair, and Mike agreed. Pam concurred. Linda also suggested the education committee be consulted. Mike said that he did not make much use of the committees this year because he was so focused on the EBSCO consortium deal. Again suggested a vendor fair. Tara told vendors that GHSLA would appreciate annual meeting support, agreed to refer vendors to AHSLC Chair and the decision to let vendors attend meeting would be based on the merit of their presentation.

Mike thanked everyone, and Kate gave Mike a gift to thank him for serving as Chair.

An informal poll of the members present at the meeting suggested people are interested in handheld resources and RSS feeds. Discussion ensued about other resources for learning about these things. Someone mentioned that MLA’s recent Web 2.0 webcast would be helpful for people to learn about some of these things. There was a question about who could access the Webcast (ie, members only). Sandra Franklin announced that Emory is sponsoring a symposium in October on scientific collaborations, connections, and communities. Discussions will include new tools that libraries are using to enhance connections and collaborations. She distributed flyers and directed people to www.metacholar.org/events/2008/sccc/ for more information.

Ms. Franklin also announced that the Emory School of Nursing has published a book on international nursing. Proceeds will be used to support international nursing projects in which the school is involved.
