Participants will be familiarized with the basic tenets of Evidence-Based Practice and learn how to apply these principles to both clinical practice and patient care. Beginning with a definition of EBP and an introduction to the 5 steps of EBP, participants will gain an understanding of the real meaning of EBP as it relates to the published literature. The class will then look at various types of study designs, how each are used, and how to evaluate study articles. The second section covers integrating EBP into clinical practice. Participants will discuss various methods for creating an evidence-based culture in their hospital and how they can promote this environment. In the last section participants will look at the patient-empowerment movement and how this is related to EBP. Participants will learn how to find the best quality evidence for patients and how to help patients find this information for themselves. (4.0 MLA CE Credits.)
