Dear Consortium Member:

We are presently in the process of determining the cost effectiveness and practicality of our contracting for automated bibliographic services through B.R.S., Lockheed, or some other means.

Please take the time to fill out the attached questionnaire and return it to one of us by or at the next Consortium meeting.

If possible, discuss with staff of your institution some of the possible applications of the data bases.

Thanks for your help.

AHSLC SURVEY
on
PROPOSED CONSORTIUM OFFICE

10/23/80

During the past few months, the consortium has been elaborating on the idea of, needs for, and feasibility of establishing a central office. Beginning with the idea of central storage for older journals, our view expanded to considering centralized duplicate exchange, a consortium MEDLINE facility, cooperative cataloging, computerized union lists with in-house updating and assorted printouts available, etc. A part-time or full-time librarian would be needed to staff such a facility, and a committment would be needed from each member to support the office after the initial (grant) funding -- (details to be worked out).

In order to clarify the possibilities, to determine which libraries are interested in which programs of the proposed office, to determine priorities, and to stimulate further planning, we request your input. Please complete the survey below and return to Suzanne by the November meeting, 11/20/80.

CAN CONSIDER YOUR VIEWS BEFORE PROPOSING ANY CHANGES

Please rank the following items indicating their importance to you as a responsibility of consortium membership. Give each item a rating of 1-10, 10 being of greatest importance. Give more than one item the same number if they are of equal importance to you.

- 8.9 Photocopying and lending from your collection.
- 6.6 Holding office, serving on committees, etc.
- 7.8 Attendance at meetings.
- 6.8 Hosting meetings.
- 9.1 Constructive attitude toward group.
- 8.7 Contribution of ideas to improve or further develop organization.
- 7.2 Phone courtesy.

See below Other. Please specify. _____

10 Union List

Comment: Must attend all meetings or send representative or must call to inform why you can't attend.

(Other responsibilities) Programs for meetings, shared cataloging (OCLC) Newsletter- do not confuse with minutes, a separate concept.

Courtesy should exist during all interactions: personal, written and phone.

- 7 If unable to host meetings, contribute by assisting with programs or offering to co-host and help with refreshments, planning, notices, etc.

Please rank the following benefits of consortium membership according to their importance to you and add anything else you find beneficial about membership.

- 8.1 Documentation of interlibrary cooperation and sharing arrangements (for JCAL, etc.)
- 9.2 Privilege of borrowing and requesting photocopies.
- 8.0 Informal continuing education.
- 8.3 Moral support and professional interaction.

See below Others _____

- 7 Sharing information concerning new publications, vendor problems, salespeople, library technology
- 6 Notification of upcoming meetings, events, courses.
- 5 Visiting libraries to see physical layout and gain new ideas concerning PR types of materials, etc.
- 8 Collection development

Comment: If more programs were non-hospital, they would be more relevant to whole group.

Do you favor creation of a new category of membership entailing fewer responsibilities than an Active membership? Yes 6 No 9

Again, would depend on what this meant - just be on mailing list but not have borrowing privileges? Do we want to lose anyone? Just those who refuse to lend or do anything for consortium - but want the ILL service - ? What about Emory? Ga State?

I think supporting membership qualifications/responsibilities which we have now should suffice. Review current By-laws.

What for? I don't agree that political clout is a realistic reason.

What's the purpose - they can't borrow from us and we can't borrow from them; they can't host, can't attend meetings, won't hold office.

Why exclude anyone from membership? What does it cost the others if some member is not active?

Absolutely not. We are a very small group and there are no membership charges ($10.00 per year or so). I don't see any purpose in someone being a member and not participating. Probably there are some other existing organizations which will be more useful to them.

We can all benefit from cooperation of the widest sort. Cases where an institution would benefit cooperation should be pursued. I don't see the point of exclusion unless an institution becomes an undue burden on the others, in which case it should be given a chance to amend practices.

I feel that Active and Supporting membership covers all necessary areas for consideration.

Active and Supporting seem adequate to cover all types of memberships.

Inactive membership for not attending meetings or sending representative.

Yes, if we re-define Active to include certain responsibilities as outlined above. Otherwise, no.

"Courtesy" or "Inactive".

A professional courtesy membership for small hospitals who are willing to share and lend resources but cannot host meetings because of space limitations and cannot attend meetings because of conflicting responsibilities and short staffing.

Do you favor creation of a definition of Active membership based on certain continuing responsibilities? Yes 13 No 5

Comments:

"Full" membership seems to be a catch-all category.

To include responsibilities. There should be enough flexibility to allow for tradeoffs of one kind of responsibility for another.
Not overly rigid.

Attendance at meetings or lack of lending arrangement should be considerations of active membership.

I would suggest having a questionnaire at the end of the year (November) to evaluate the contributions of all members. This will provide some incentive to members who are not very active. For example. . . it seems that only 6-7 members are rotating again and again. I strongly urge participation from all members.

My being in favor of it would be solely dependent on the final definition of this category. Personally I think it would be great to have members who did nothing other than provide access to their journal holdings, and I, in my turn, am more than happy to send anyone a copy of a journal article even if my library never borrows anything from them and even if they are not active or even semi-active members.

Members should be partly responsible for the success of the organization.

Depends on what it will mean if you are not an active member - loss of privileges??
Who makes decision, etc.

Even though a small hospital. . . might be hurt by the definition I feel it's important to an effective organization.

Write your own version if you like:

I think if the institution's usual representative can't attend a meeting then she or he should send someone (where appropriate - not all members can have this option)

We must be able to motivate all members to find their own way of contributing to the group. Some libraries are too small to lend, but they can always be on executive committee (Secretary, Statistician, etc.)

If some members are adamant about meeting monthly, I think every other month should be business only. Perhaps the newsletter could take the place of one monthly meeting, could promote interaction and support; members could contribute.

In the course of one year a member should attend 'x' number of meetings per year and actively participate in ILL. In the course of two years should (hold office, or serve on committees) and host a meeting.

(Answer to my question of "CONFUSED?") YES!!!!

Some combination of the 4 which adds up to some amount of service to AHS LC (how to measure?) Do like CE credits? You get so many 'credits' for each activity or each photocopy made - must add up to a certain total or you are put on warning to do more or be dropped. Give person six months to shape up or have good reason why they can't do anything at that time?

Do you favor creation of a definition of Active membership based on certain continuing responsibilities? Yes X No

Comments I would suggest having a questionnaire at the end of the year (November) to evaluate the contributions of all members. This will provide some incentive to members who are not very active. For example, last year we made a survey concerning hosting the meetings and the results were very interesting. It seems that only 6-7 members are rotating again and again. I strongly urge the participation from all members.

Below are examples of possible requirements of continued Active membership. Please comment by changing numbers or crossing through those you consider inappropriate, unnecessary, etc. Please note those you find acceptable. Also add any others.

- ✓#1 Hosting meetings. / 1 every 2 years
 - ✓#2 Attending meetings. 4-6 / (certain number per year)
per year
 - ✓#3 Lending or photocopying 60 / (certain number per year)
per year
 - ✓#4 Holding office, serving on committees / 1 every 2 years
- Others?

To be an active member one must:

#2, #3 in the course of one year

#1 in the course of two years

fulfill:

any one of the above four requirements. Which one?

All four (or more)

X Some of the four. Which ones? First 3. Holding office or serving on committees requires leadership ability and not all of us have it. If the first 3 are fulfilled, the fourth requirement may be waived.

~~XXXXXXXX~~ Write your own version if you like: We must be able to motivate all members to find their own way of contributing to the group. Some libraries are too small to lend, but they can always be on executive committee (Secretary, Statistician, etc.)

Do you favor creation of a new category of membership entailing fewer responsibilities than an Active membership? Yes _____ No X

Comments Absolutely not. We are a very small group and there are no membership charges ($10.00 per year or so). I don't see any purpose in someone being a member and not participating. Probably there are some other existing organizations which will be more useful to them.

Must attend every meeting, supply all requests within 20 minutes (other than to drive the photocopy to GSA), be thorough and report on all requests. Librarian must eat less than two cookies or receptions, be present at least every other year, and give a substantial gift to the Public Library Endowment Fund. Removing tongue from cheek... whatever is reasonable

Comments We can all benefit from cooperation of the widest sort. Cases where an institution would benefit cooperation should be pursued. I don't see the point of exclusion unless an institution becomes an undue burden on the others, in which case it should be given a chance to amend practices.

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

OCTOBER 1984 SURVEY OF LIBRARY PROFESSIONALS AND LIBRARY MANAGERS EMPLOYED BY ATALANTA HEALTH SCIENCE LIBRARY CONSORTIUM MEMBERS AND SUPPORTING MEMBERS.

The purpose of the survey was to gather information about the salaries and the benefits earned by health science library professionals and library managers.

The 26 institutions listed below participated in the survey. A total of 49 survey forms were distributed. 75% or 33 survey forms were returned. Two of the 33 survey forms returned were of limited usefulness as they did not report salary information.

Information about salary is expressed in averages. In most of the following salary breakdowns, it was not necessary to report the median salary because the distribution of the 31 reported salaries was symmetrical (i.e. the average and the median were identical).

COMMENTS FROM SURVEY:

1. We total all our other statistics monthly. Seems as easy to report to consortium monthly.
2. It doesn't seem that it would be any greater trouble to report who was lent to as well as how many, since we're keeping the numbers anyway. We could eliminate the received from AHS LC category since it duplicates the sent to. But of course the borrowing library's going to have to keep that info anyway since there is a limit of 7 per month request from some libraries.
3. At present, the main reason for most libraries becoming AHS LC members is to have access to free resource sharing facilities. In fact, we were even contacted by a "for-profit" institution to become a member (1979) which was declined. For that reason, I feel very strongly that we should have a close observation of ILL activities. I feel that certain members are not contributing enough to even justify continued membership.
-  4. Our Administration believes that the only thing a Librarian does is what is reflected in statistics. If our stats show an increase in ILL activity, then we might be eligible for a merit raise. If our ILL activity slows down, but our collection gets catalogued or our serials files are corrected and updated, or our policy manual is rewritten and used, then Administration thinks we aren't doing our job. So much for enlightened despots!
-  5. We use ILL stats at _____ hospital for budget planning, justification of our existence, and blackmail. We want to know how many "freebies" we get and how much it would cost without the Consortium. We want to compare our ILL stats with other Health Science Libraries of similar size (especially those on-line). The time/money savings on the "freebies" justify our being able to attend Consortium meetings with pay and without penalty (and don't think for a minute it wasn't a hassle to get that!). Our Administration does not consider Librarians, even NLM accredited Medical Librarians, as professionals with a need/right to continuing education, attendance at meetings, workshops, seminars, etc. We both are considered hourly workers who have to punch a timeclock, and can get no overtime, not even to stay late for the bi-monthly Library Committee meetings. (I just threatened the slob with the Hourly Wage Commission on that one; they're backing down.) To be frank, WE NEED THESE STATS FOR CLOUT! Perhaps sometime in the future, we can develop a better working environment here. Until then, we are playing the "numbers game" with a vengeance!
-  6. Fay, I don't know if you planned this response to be "anonymous" or not, but I think it might be interesting, if not important, to know which libraries use the stats and in what manner. My gut instinct is that they are more important to the smaller libraries such as ours, and for reasons similar (though I hope not as desperate) as ours.
7. It seems that for our records here at _____ just the total # of ILL's both sent and received on an annual basis would be sufficient.
8. If a lot of people answer annual and a lot answer quarterly, we should probably compromise and say bimonthly.
9. If quarterly statistics are used we could change our 7 times a month rule to a 21 times a quarter rule. The statistics should be reported at the same interval as the other contributions.

10. If we have both of these numbers (1 & 4) it will help "defend" small libraries that may only send out a few, but only request a few. Some people assume that small libraries that only supply one article per month borrow thousands. This is simply not true. The ILL "contribution points" could be based on the ratio of send : receive: for example if.....
- A. _____ borrows 200 and sends out 100 we have a 2:1 ratio -- meaning we are a sponge & must redeem ourselves
 - B. _____ borrows 5 and send out 10 they have a 1:2 ratio -- meaning they do not have to redeem themselves
11. Please let's not make ILL function essential for membership. Not only will it exclude growing libraries which need the help in the beginning, but also special ones like ours.

SUBJECT: Interlibrary Loan Methods: Pros & Cons, Recommendations & Survey

DATE: August 1, 1986

In response to the AHSLC discussion on I.L.L. methods during the July meeting, we have compiled the following information and developed a brief survey. Please make sure to send your completed survey to Carol Smith at St. Jo's by AUGUST 29!!! We will report on the results of the survey at the September meeting. Our report will include the names of the libraries that completed the survey as well as those who do not complete the survey.

PART ONE:

ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF 4 METHODS OF SENDING I.L.L. REQUESTS

(Note: There is room in our survey form for you to comment and add to our list of Advantages and Disadvantages)

ONTYME

Advantages:

- easy-to-use
- fast, don't need to go through long list of questions in order to send an I.L.L. request
- can upload information using a microcomputer
- inexpensive
- can retrieve and cancel messages if you make a mistake
- can use at most convenient time
- can personalize requests (ex.: "Miss Pat, I'll be out of town next week so don't rush. Thanks. Alice")
- can send messages to the entire AHSLC or Georgia Health Sciences Libraries at the same time (ex. "HELP! Who owns this book?")
- not restricted to MEDLARS users

Disadvantages: will not automatically forward your request to another library when first library can not provide.

DOCLINE

Advantages:

- only need to put in the UI number
- don't have to look up who owns the title, the system will choose for you.
- speeds up turn-around time for requests to NLM, Emory
- automatically forwards to another library if the first library can not provide

Disadvantages: in order to have control over where your request goes must look up holdings information using traditional methods (e.g. microfiche)

- system chooses the library to send your request to based on title only, i.e. it disregards the year of publication you are interested in. The selected library therefore may not own the year that you need.
- have to go through time-consuming series of prompts for each transaction
- can not retrieve requests in order to correct mistakes

TELEPHONE LINE

- Advantages: personal immediate feedback if connection is made
- Disadvantages: time-consuming and disruptive often hard to make contact (e.g. phone is busy, no answer) have to spell things to people disruptive to work routine

U.S. MAIL

- Advantages: serves as an invoice when there is a charge for material
- Disadvantages: have to type out archaic form slow

PART TWO:

PRELIMINARY RECOMMENDATIONS

(Note: Recommendations will be revised & updated based on the results of this survey)

1. Always look up holdings information in AHSLC microfiche before sending any I.L.L. requests to another consortium member. This includes DOCLINE requests as well as ONTYME, PHONE, and MAIL requests.
2. ONTYME is the preferred method of sending I.L.L. requests to other Georgia Libraries and AHSLC members because of the system's ease-of-use, flexibility, and speed. All AHSLC members should make every attempt to become members of ONTYME.
3. For loan requests sent to libraries outside of Georgia, both ONTYME and DOCLINE are preferable to use over the U.S. MAIL because of their speed.
4. For loans to EMORY and NLM, DOCLINE is preferred by the EMORY and NLM Interlibrary Loan Departments over ONTYME. (ONTYME requests are accepted by both EMORY and NLM). All MEDLARS users should make every attempt to get onto DOCLINE.

Is your library automated?

Yes 5 No 1 Somewhat 3

What automation system are you using?

SydneyPlus	Spectrum/Winnebago
Endeavor Voyager	Professional Software
Tripe i (through Mercer)
EOSi

SYSTEM	LIKES	DISLIKES
SydneyPlus	Web friendly Very organized Searches all meanings of a word Can be customized	Some terminology is not user friendly to the public.
Endeavor Voyager	Links to online resources	Company is so new that special reports need to be programmed. Frequent upgrades
Tripe i	Journal check in Easier tracking	A little cumbersome Check out module logs out too quickly. You have to log in each time you want to check someone out.
EOSi	Not much	Not user friendly Difficult to enter information Difficult to enter unlisted items Frequently goes down
Spectrum/Winnebago	Spectrum version 5.1 is O.K. for access to collection. OCLC/Solinet fill those needs entirely. Inexpensive	Dos based No technical support Will be replacing Crashes Designed for schools Not command driven
Professional Software	Inexpensive Meets needs Excellent technical support	Lacks features & flexibility of more expensive packages. Live links to electronic journals is questionable.

#3 What do your users use wireless for?

1. Access the internet; access the institution's network
2. laptops
3. It is only for inhouse employee use, and they have to get special set-up/permissions to use the hotspots in the hospital.
4. Work, email, webpage development
5. Accessing the Internet - webpages, library resources (online catalog, electronic books and journals, services, online forms) class resources, online course resources. Personal course info., email, and more.
6. I already have wireless in my library. They use their laptops to do hospital work and patient use and their family members use to do business and personal.
7. Library research, saving and exchanging papers, personal use
8. accessing academic resources for their classes. Especially blackboard to access notes and info regarding their classes.
9. Do not know. I just heard through grapevine that some sort of wireless access was available in the hospital.
10. Access the EmoryU network (library homepages, campus academic links) and the internet
11. Patrons can use laptops in the library if they need or want to.
12. research
13. PDAs IPODS Lap tops
14. To search for articles online, etc.
15. Are students use it for writing papers, accessing databases, email etc. The students like to go sit on the floor sometimes in the stacks with their computers if they are accessing certain print volumes. As of yet, our library does not have staff using wireless much. There was some talk of removing some of our "wired connections". We have just had wireless for about 6 months. Some of our schools like nursing and public health do not have it in their buildings yet.
16. Physicians use it to enter patient care notes as they move from room to room. I envision use will expand as wireless is rolled out to more users. Access to secure databases is dropped when one gets beyond a certain distance from the server.
17. Accessing information on the Internet using Laptops and PDAs.
